PUP SOUGHT–BITTEN GIRL MAY FACE RABIES TESTING

A Novato mother and physician joined today in a plea for help in locating a runaway 3-month-old golden retriever pup.

It is no simple case of a runaway pet. Whether a little girl must undergo painful rabies prevention treatment depends on finding the pup.

Last Thursday, Brett Biccala, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baccala of 796 St. Francis Avenue, Novato, was bitten by the pup, which belongs to Michael Milano of 1021 Second Street, Novato.

Milano placed the pup, which tas not had rabies shots, in quarantine. But next day it escaped from the garage in which he had penned it.

Milano had just brought the pup from Susanville, he said, and it was unfamiliar with its surroundings.

Mrs. Biccala and Dr. Frederick J. Newirth, family physician, today asked anyone who had seen a stray golden retriever pup to please notify them.

LACK OF WORLD CRISES

Trend Appears Against CD

Civil defense, which has its ups and downs depending on international crises, seems to be on the downgrade in Marin County as governments approach budget decisions for the next fiscal year.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman commented at yesterday's board of supervisors meeting that "Portland is dropping its program entirely."

Fusselman's comment was in connection with a proposed increase of salary for Asst. Civil Defense Director Jean Smith from $555 to $580. The board delayed action on the proposal.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said: "The entire state of Oregon is giving up civil defense. I'm not saying we should do so, but it seems to be the trend."

While San Rafael, San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Novato have only nominal amounts in their budgets this year for civil defense purposes, and actual expenditures have been below the amounts budgeted.

San Anselmo has $200 budgeted this year and an equal amount proposed for next year. Expenditures this year have amounted to about $170.

Novato has spent $10 of the budgeted $500 for this year. Proposed for next year's budget is $3,870.

To the end of May in Mill Valley spent $34 of $600 budgeted for civil defense this fiscal year. The proposed 1963-64 budget has $325 allocated.

Of $500 budgeted this year in San Rafael, about $430 has been spent. An equal amount has been proposed for inclusion in next year's budget.

Sausalito budgeted $175 for civil defense this year and has $200 in its 1963-'64 tentative budget.

$70,000 Pay Hike Given Unofficial Approval In Marin

Salary boosts totaling about $70,000 were given unofficial approval yesterday by Marin County supervisors prior to discussion of the 1963-64 budget.

More than 100 county employees will benefit from the increases. The board accepted most pay hikes proposed by Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott, but Supervisor George Ludy disagreed as to the method of passing out the increases.

"I don't go along with this idea of giving four or five-range promotions to people who haven't been here long enough to prove themselves," he said. He was the chief critic of Elliott's proposal to realign salary ranges for some positions to make them comparable to similar jobs elsewhere.

Ludy insisted employees were being given pay increases on the theory they would go outside the county if they didn't get more pay.

"This idea is a lot of hooey," he said. "If they don't stay we can always find good replacements at the same money."

Elliott and County Administrator Alan Bruce protested that the purpose of increases was to properly establish job categories.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman, acting chairman in absence of Walter R. Castro, and William A. Gnoss agreed with Ludy that increases should be based on steps within ranges, rather than placing employees in entirely new pay categories as requested by Elliott.

Public Works Department employees received general pay hikes, from equipment operations to road maintenance supervisors, for a total of more than $26,000.

Probation Department employees also won increases in most categories, including a boost for Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher from $912 to $955 per month.

The board overrode Elliott's recommendation in approving an increase for Deputy County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney from $795 to $871. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire presented the case for the raise for his deputy.

Deputy Public Defender Jerome C. Durham won a boost from $426 a month to $531.

Elliott said all salaries of attorneys employed by the county would be reviewed early next year.

Salary increases for the sheriff's office, superintendent of county schools and Welfare Department were to be reviewed by the board today.

Consideration of the sanitation division of the County Health Department brought declaration by Elliott that William Desmond's job as sanitation director is "very possibly one of the most ridiculously under-classified positions within the county."

He recommended the job be placed five pay ranges higher.

"Don't go overboard," protested Ludy, proposing a two-range boost instead.

Although it was recognized that increases in the medical

JFK Calls Out Troops As Wallace Defies Him

U.S. Avers Negroes To Enroll

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., (UPI)—Gov. George C. Wallace kept his date with history today by barring two Negroes frfom the University of Alabama. President John F. Kennedy promptly called out troops, and the government vowed to take the Negroes "right through the front door."

True to his pledge, Wallace was "standing in the schoolhouse door" when Negro students Vivian Malone, 20, of Mobile, and James A. Hood, 20, of Gadsden, turned up to register.

The two students, accompanied by four federal agents, drove onto a campups that was ringed by helmeted troopers. Helicopters whirled overhead watching their every move, and scores of newsmen were on hand for the historic confrontation.

SPECIAL ORDER

Kennedy set the stage at midmorning for ordering out the troops. He issued a special proclamation ordering Wallace to "cease and desist" from any attempts to bar the Negroes. The step was the final legal move required before Kennedy could use federal troops.

Just as soon as Justice Department officials reported back to Washington on Wallace's defiant stand, Kennedy issued another order federalizing the 31st Division, the Alabama National Guard, and authorizing defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to use any Army troops needed to enforce the federal court order directing the admission of Miss Malone and Hood.

FEDERAL ESCORT

U.S. Deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach headed up the federal escort that accompanied the two students.

Katzenbach approached Wallace, who was standing in the main entrance of Foster auditorium, and told him:

"I want your unequivocal assurance that you will not bar the entrance."

Instead Wallace, flanked by hundreds of highway patrolmen sweating in the hot sun, started reading a long docu-

Bodega Bay Atom Plant Study Asked

Marin County supervisors today unanimously passed a resolution requesting California congressmen and state legislators to "address themselves to the safety factors involved in the proposed nuclear plant at Bodega Bay with regard to the possibility that Marin County could be adversely affected."

The motion was made by Supervisor Peter Behr after the board heard letters from the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach and the Marin branch of the Bodega Head committee.

"This county has a responsibility to maintain an interest in this subject," Behr said. "It is an exceedingly complicated field, but we should indicate our concern and ask our representatives to keep an eye on the matter."

Supervisor George Ludy seconded Behr's motion. The county clerk was directed to send letters to Senators Thomas H. Kuchel and Clair Engle and Rep. Donald H. Clausen.

Fairfax Voters Casting Ballots

About 5 per cent of the registered voters in the Fairfax School District had cast ballots by noon today in the $175,000 bond election for a school expansion program.

The polls will be open to 7 p.m. at Deer Park, Fairfax Central and Manor Schools.

The money would be used to built seven more classrooms and acquire additional land which would include a site for a junior high school.

WESTERN WEEKEND STARTS TOMORROW

Novato's Western Weekend Celebration starts tomorrow when the carnival gets underway at the Patterson Ranch site at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

In addition to the carnival opening at 3 p.m. to midnight, there will be the booth section run by various organizations in the community. This year there are 25 booths which will be run by the service clubs and other organizations in Novato.

The Carnival Time Shows of Sonoma, which have operated the carnival for the past several years, has added two of the rides from Seattle World's Fair.

A special 16 page section devoted to the Western Weekend is included in today's Independent-Journal. It gives the program of events, places, and times for all the various activities of the event, as well as many interesting sidelights on the celebration.

Mrs. Stewart B. Hopps Is Found Dead In Florida

Mrs. Geraldine Hopps, 54, formerly of Belvedere and wife of insurance millionaire Stewart B. Hopps, was found dead on the floor of her bedroom in suburban Miami, Fla., yesterday afternoon, apparently victim of an overdose of sleeping pills.

The Dade County medical examiner listed death as apparent suicide. Mrs. Hopps had been in poor health. An autopsy was to be performed.

Her body was found at 4 p.m. by her husband. He called an ambulance to the exclusive North Bay Village home, but Mrs. Hopps was dead on arrival at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

An empty glass and an empty jar of sleeping pills were found near the bed.

Mrs. Hopps was well known in Marin and the Bay Area. She and her husband entertained frequently in their $450,000 Belvedere mansion.

In September, they deeded the heavily mortgaged home to attorneys J. W. Ehrlich and Eugene Clifford in lieu of legal fees incurred in defending Hopps against mail fraud and tax evasion charges.

Investigators said today that Mrs. Hopps was once confined in St. Francis Memorial Hospital in San Francisco with tuberculosis and diabetes. Last month, she was released from Jackson Memorial Hospital. Hopps said she had recently complained of pains in her chest.

Sailor Is Injured As Sedan Overturns

A 17-year-old sailor of the aircraft carrier Midway, berthed at Alameda Naval Air Station, suffered minor injuries of his left leg and side when his sedan overturned on Highway 101 about 300 feet north of Atherton Avenue, Novato, about 5:50 a.m. yesterday.

Steven R. Grimm was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital and was to be released today.

Deadline Is July 5 For NWP

Unless an appeal is filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by July 5, the Northwestern Pacific Railroad will have to start work immediately after the date to restore train service to San Rafael.

Attorney E. Myron Bull, who helped represent Marin County and the City of San Rafael in hearings on NWP's application to abandon service rather than rebuild the burned-out Puerto Suello Tunnel, said today the railroad would be under the same obligation as any public utility where service was interrupted.

Probably no train will run through the tunnel to San Rafael before 1964, since engineering plans would have to be drawn up and bids called.

The ICC order turning down the request for abandonment was handed down Wednesday. The railroad has 30 days from that date to appeal or start steps to restore service.

The rail service was cut July 20, 1961, when the tunnel burned and collapsed after two Santa Venetia boys started five fires. The cave-in of the timber-lined tunnel took the life of one fireman.

"Upon consideration of all the evidence of record," states

Two Almost Drown, In Limantour Bay

Two oyster company workers nearly drowned yesterday in freezing Limantour Bay when a gale flipped their 12-foot boat about 6:30 a.m.

Tom Johnson, son of the oyster company owner, and Jack Perry, an employee, clung to the boat but found the buoyancy inadequate. Johnson helped Perry swim about 40 yards to shore and barely made it, Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen reported.

But their troubles were not over. They were dripping wet and nearly frozen. They broke into a nearby cabin and helped themselves to whatever dry clothing they could find.

About two hours later, when Charles Johnson, owner of Johnson Oyster Co., went looking for the missing men, he spotted a weird looking pair waving frantically from shore.

Six-foot-two-inch Tom Johnson had managed to wiggle himself into a woman's dress he found in the cabin, and a pair of hip boots. Perry, who weighs a bare 100 pounds, was floundering about in high heel shoes and a pair of woman's slacks, about size 42.

Deputy Christensen said the pair had technically committed a couple of crimes—burglary and impersonating women. But under the circumstances, he did not file charges.

Handkerchief-Clad Gunman Gets $45 At Marin Tavern

A man with a handkerchief over his face and a .22-caliber rifle took $45 early today from the Redwood Room bar, 460 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Bartender Robert J. Risso, 1217 Grand Avenue, told police the man entered at 12:27 a.m. by a side door from Tamalpais Avenue, waved the gun and ordered, "Hand me the cash out of the till."

Risso obeyed, handing over $45 in $1 and $5 bills.

"Lie down on the floor!" the gunman then ordered the bartender and three patrons.

One of them, Herbert P. Stonecipher of 55 Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, refused. He said later he thought the holdup was a joke.

The gunman did not argue, but stuffed the money in a pocket and left. Stonecipher ran out the front door and to the corner of Tamalpais Ave-

TEST BAN TALK COULD BE NEW PHASE OF COLD WAR

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's agreement to U.S.-British-Soviet talks on a nuclear test ban has vast implications. It may presage an entirely new phase of the cold war.

The timing of Khrushchev's decision looks like a studied slap at the Chinese Communists, suggesting that division of the world Communists into two camps is already a fact.

The Soviet leader's appearance of conciliation toward the West will be treated with skeptical reserve in Washington. The talks may be just talks and little more. But there is another aspect.

President John F. Kennedy appears to be asking for a broad reappraisal, on both sides, of the whole cold war. There are indications that Khrushchev is willing to listen. To Khrushchev's proposal for peaceful coexistence the President responds with a proposal to "make the world safe for diversity."

Khrushchev appears to be gambling, putting a great deal on the line to show the world—and its Communists—that his way is the best one toward ultimate Red victory.

The test ban meeting in Moscow is set tentatively for July. That may mean Khrushchev has run out of patience with Peking's warlike Red dissidents.

Another important Moscow meeting is scheduled for July, between representatives of the bellicose Chinese party and members of the Soviet Central Committee. They plan to discuss their deep conflict.

Kennedy, announcing the projected test ban talks, said mankind need not accept "the conclusion that war is inevitable."

The notably hopeful tone of the president's discussion of future East-West discussion of future East-West relations can only enrage the Red Chinese, who have been loudly scornful of Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence line and have called for the Soviet leader's head on that score.

Khrushchev will insist that the ideological war with the West will continue, and that communism will compete effectively with economic and political weapons. But that will hardly assauge Chinese feelings.

The Chinese categorically reject Khrushchev's idea that total war can be avoided. Peking and its allies insist that total war between the two world systems is inevitable. The Russians, with much more to lose than the have-not Chinese, say it's not so any more.

Pressures and changes in the USSR now may require any Soviet leadership to put the interests of the nation and the Soviet people first, even ahead of Communist world unity. A changing Soviet society exhibits more natural ties with Europe and the West than with China and the East. Khrushchev is sensitive to these pressures and changes.

Many times the Soviet leader has displayed a belief that the United States and Russia have mutual problems, interests and responsibilities in a world threatened by nuclear catastrophe.

Now Kennedy speaks of a "mutually deep interest in a just and genuine peace and in halting the arms race."

He speaks of common U.S.-Soviet interest in preventing war, since the two nations would be the primary targets and "most in danger of devastation."

The president also spoke of the possibility of diverting vast sums now used for armament to "combat ignorance, poverty and disease." Khrushchev has used almost identical words and in so doing enraged Peking.

Kennedy also noted that Americans and Russians, while defending their own vital interests, "must avert those confrontations which present an adversary with a choice of either humiliating retreat or nuclear war."

That was almost the situation last October when the President forced a showdown on the Soviet missiles in Cuba. For withdrawing the missiles Khrushchev was accused by the Red Chinese of making a humiliating retreat. The Cuban crisis added fuel to the burning dispute in the Communist world.

In 1961 railroads used 3,382,000,000 gallons of diesel oil; 93,570,000 gallons of fuel ail, and 1,625,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity to power their locomotives.

British Scandal Is Probed

LONDON (AP) — Britain's lord chancellor continued today to probe into whether the nation's security was breached as a result of the Profumo affair.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan ordered the inquiry into the shadowy background of the scandal that rocked his government after War Minister John Profumo quit in disgrace.

Macmillan's position as head of the government and of the Conservative party was also periled by charges that he was fooled too easily by Profumo's deceit. But aides said he had no thought of resigning.

Profumo quit last Wednesday, confessing he had had an improper relationship in 1961 with Christine Keeler, a 21-year-old party girl.

Although Profumo denied any security breach was involved, Christine at the same time was the mistress of Capt. Eugene Ivanov, then the assistant Soviet military attache in London. Macmillan assigned Lord Dilhorne, the lord chancellor, to study the security aspects of the affair.

Dilhorne's report could lead to a full-scale tribunal of inquiry that would inquire into every corner of the scandal, one of the most sensational in British political history.

The Laborite Daily Herald said today that Dilhorne's investigations would be satisfactory only if they resulted in a full parliamentary probe.

Dilhorne questioned Profumo last Friday. He also is reported to have questioned security agents said to have been checking on Profumo's relationship with Miss Keeler and hers with Ivanov.

But he has not yet questioned Miss Keeler nor her mentor, Dr. Stephen Ward, 50, a society osteopath now in jail on charges of living off the proceeds of prostitution. Ward introduced Miss Keeler to Profumo and was also a friend of Ivanov.

The government announced that Dilhorne's inquiry had been in progress since before Profumo quit, raising the question why the government kept it a secret until yesterday.

The almost unavoidable conclusion, said the Times of London, was that Macmillan believed no security issues were involved, even after he ordered the inquiry.

Because of his responsibility as head of British security, Macmillan faces a crisis of confidence in his leadership of the ruling Conservative party. Political observers regard his appearance in the House of Commons next Monday as the crisis point in his career.

Civil Rights Action Sought From Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration has pulled out all the stops in an effort to translate the threat of racial disturbances into action by Congress on civil rights legislation.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in a series of conferences yesterday with Senate and House members, was reported to have described the country as being on the verge of widespread disorders.

While Kennedy got pledges of strong Northern Democratic backing, he ran into stonewall resistance from Southern senators to his pleas for action to knock down racial barriers in public places and to give him authority to initiate civil rights suits.

Kennedy was said to have told the senators and House members somberly that violence and disorder may assume national proportions unless swifter progress is made toward integration.

While Southerners appeared impressed by the gravity of the situation, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), said they would not go along with proposals that "aim another blow at property rights in this country."

This was a reference to an expected administration proposal to ban discrimination in all public places and in stores, restaurants and other enterprises dealing in interstate products.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), acknowledged in a 76th birthday appearance before the National Press Club that a "great racial crisis" exists in both the North and South. He said he hopes there will be no violence.

But he said in a later interview Southerners will have no other recourse than to filibuster in the Senate against the measures President John F. Kennedy may send to Congress next week.

If senators object to the holding of committee meetings during the filibuster, Byrd said this would delay action on the president's tax reduction bill.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.), was quoted as having told the president's brother that if there were disorders the administration would share the blame for them because he said it had made promises to the Negroes that it had not kept.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said there still is no final agreement on the language of the administration bills.

Humphrey said he is confident President Kennedy will call Republican leaders into conference about the proposals before they are submitted to Congress. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said no move had been made to consult GOP members.

Kennedy has asked 150 labor leaders to the White House tomorrow to discuss the civil rights problem. He will meet with a group of religious leaders Monday.

The incorporation of Estonia into the Soviet Union in August, 1940, has never been recognized by the United States.

Robert Lee Bell, who was taken into custody by Sacramento police Sunday night, was accused of stealing a 22-caliber gun from a Lompoc ranch four days before the two 18-year-old students were shot to death on an isolated beach last Tuesday.

Bell was flown here yesterday for questioning but no complaint was filed. Officers said he was technically processed on a burglary charge for theft of the gun.

The youth told detectives he was expelled from school, and went to Sacramento two days before the couple was killed.

Contact Lenses For Chickens

SANTA ROSA (AP)—A Santa Rosa inventor wants chickens to see red and to do the job he has developed contact lenses that a chicken can wear permanently.

A. W. Schriner said he noticed chickens with cataracts were better behaved than others and their egg production was good. He hit on a red plastic contrivance to distort the vision of healthy chickens.

Schriner says since everything the chicken sees is red, bleeding injuries do not attract it and cannibalism is prevented; the birds no longer fight; they stop chickens from picking over their food and wasting it and they reduce emotional stresses and egg breakage.

Threat In Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier Constantine Caramanlis has threatened to resign if King Paul and Queen Frederika don't cancel their state visit to Britain starting July 9, government sources said today.

The Queen is reported insisting on the trip although she was harrassed in London April 20 by pickets demanding the release of 1,000 Greek prisoners taken during the Communist civil war of 1947-49.

The government denies the convicts involved are political prisoners.

Terrorists Burn U.S. Warehouse

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Tommygun-armed pro-Castro terrorists attacked and burned the U.S.-owned Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. warehouse today. There were no casualties but damage was estimated at roughly one million dollars.

Police said at least four men were involved in the attack, and said some of them identified by a warehouse night watchman were members of the Venezuelan Communist Party. They used two stolen cars for the raid.

All Caracas fire-fighting equipment and 300 firemen battled the three-hour blaze in the southwestern factory district, which burned up an estimated 10,000 tires and tubes, almost gutting the building.

Twenty families had to be moved from the area because of the dense smoke which hung in a thick black cloud over most of Caracas.

The attackers forced their way into the warehouse at gunpoint around dawn. They tied up three employees, sprayed the floors of the building with gasoline and used a firebomb to set the fire.

The attack came six days after terrorists raided and burned the U.S. military mission offices here. A month ago, terrorists set fire to the U.S.-owned Sears Roebuck warehouse in the same industrial suburb.

Truck Hurtles Down Desert Road, Carrying Boy Scouts To Death

HOLE-IN-THE-ROCK, Utah (AP)—A truck carrying 46 persons through this historic desert area overturned yesterday. Nine Boy Scouts, two of their leaders and a woman newspaper reporter were killed.

The list of hospitalized reached 15, with at least two critical, as details of the tragedy slowly came from the scene of the accident in the remote desert area between Escalante and Hole-in-the Rock on the Colorado River.

The group was from the Ogden-Salt Lake City-Provo area about 200 miles north. Most were Boy Scouts, but Floyd Loveridge, chief executive of the scouts in Provo, said the trip was under the auspices of the South Cottonwood Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Provo area.

The adventurous expedition was led by a group of teachers and college professors who had led many trips into Utah's red desert areas.

One of the dead was H. Darrell Taylor, 45, a professor of languages in Provo and scout leader.

Another of the leaders, Merlin J. Shaw, 51, of Provo, an assistant professor at Brigham Young and father of six, was killed. Yesterday was his 26th wedding anniversary.

Dorothy Hansen, 24, a vacationing reporter for Salt Lake City's Deseret News, was along for the ride and planned to write a feature article.

Utah highway patrolman Burt Giles said the truck was grinding up a steep grade on a dirt road that had been battered by the fierce desert winds and flash floods when the engine failed.

The brakes wouldn't hold and the two-and-one-half-ton cattle truck plummeted backwards down the incline. It hurtled off the edge of road into a deeply eroded gully and flipped over, trapping most of the passengers huddled in the back and crushing some of them.

West End Villa Sold By Franchini To David Marowitz

Franchini's West End Villa, 11 G Street, San Rafael has been sold to David Marowitz, a former Marin County restaurant and tavern owner, it was announced today.

Marowitz, who lives at 1120 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, is expected to take possession upon transfer of the liquor license sometime in July. The name will revert to the original "West End Villa" used before it was purchased by the present owner Roy G. Franchini, in 1960. Meanwhile Franchini will continue to operate the restaurant.

Franchini, who also owns Franchini's Chateau, said it has been difficult to maintain two separate restaurants. He is planning on remodeling and adding a banquet room to the Chateau.

The transaction was handled by San Rafael realty broker Robert M. Rivers.

Bolinas Fire Board Passes $8,085 Budget

Bolinas fire protection district commissioners last night adopted a 1963-64 budget of $8,085 and agreed they will try to hold the present tax rate of 47 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Current year's budget is $7,035. The increase of $1,050 is mainly for fire hydrants for a new line to be installed from the water tanks to Marin Way, a yet-unopened street, James Dougan, chairman, reported.

June 30 will be annual clean-up day in Bolinas, with volunteer firemen and others reporting at the firehouse at 9 a.m. to clean fire trails, hydrants, and other areas considered fire hazards. Lunch will be served at noon at the Community Center.

Volunteer firemen declared the fire season officially open in Bolinas, adding no one may burn without a proper permit from the fire department.

Volunteers re-elected Donald Staude, chief of the department. They elected Peter Martin as first assistant chief; Donald Pepper, second assistant chiew, and A. C. Pfefferkorn, secretary.

Group Joins Protest On Personnel Changes

The Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs today joined forces with the Marin Council for Civic Affairs and the League of Women Voters in protesting county supervisors' recent 4-1 vote to separate personnel from the office of the county administrator.

New letters asking the supervisors to backtrack were read today by Robert Heyer for the Marin Council and by Mrs. William C. Anderson for the league, after which Mrs. Mary Henry also read a letter putting the club federation on record.

The federation letter reported a vote by its board asking the supervisors to "postpone any action curtailing the duties of the administrator" and suggesting that any action along such line should be made only after careful study to establish justification.

Chairman William D. Fusselman said no further action had been taken to implement the decision expressed by the recent vote. Action is being delayed, he said, pending return of Chairman Walter R. Castro, who with Supervisor William A. Gnoss initiated the action for separation.

So far the board has failed to change the ordinance relating to the office of county administrator as would be necessary to set up a separate personnel department. Supervisor Peter Behr said that technically this leaves Robert D. Elliott still in the position of assistant personnel director under Alan Bruce, a situation which might continue permanently if the board were to vote rescinding its earlier action.

TROOPS

ment he had prepared for the occasion.

The two Negro students remained in the back seat of the tan sedan that brought them onto the campus while this scene was unfolding. John Doar, an attorney for the Justice Department waited with them.

Hood, dressed in a dark suit and a snap-brim blue hat with a red feather in its band, leaned forward on the front seat to hear what was being said.

Wallace, droning on, said at one point, "This intrusion results solely from force or threat of force, undignified by any reasonable application of the principle of law, reason and justice . . . while some few may applaud these acts, millions of Americans will gaze in sorrow . . ."

At one point Katzenbach told the governor, "You ought to do the duty of the courts."

But the fiery 5-foot-7 Wallace held up his hand and told Katzenbach to "quit making a speech."

Four times Katzenbach told the governor that he wanted assurances that Miss Malone and Hood would not be arrested.

When it became obvious Wallace was not going to stand aside, Katzenbach and Doar escorted the two Negro students quickly away.

Wallace, for the first time, appeared to lose his composure. He ordered all doors and windows to the auditorium blocked.

Miss Malone and Hood were taken to dormitories on the campus and were promptly admitted.

San Rafael City Aide Collapses

John Goodale, San Rafael assistant city manager, collapsed in his office in the city hall at 11:25 a.m. today.

He was taken by ambulance to San Rafael General Hospital.

Goodale, 23, lives at 20 Pearl Court, Sausalito. He is not related to James Goodale, who once served on the San Rafael City Council.

Bakery Retail Clerks Are Due Two Raises

Retail clerks in eight Marin County bakeries have received a seven and one-half cent hourly raise, retroactive to April 1, and will receive another six and one-half cent raise next April, as result of negotiations concluded last week between the bakeries and Retail Clerks Union 1119.

The bakeries are: Lady Baltimore, Baronial, California, Lafayette French Pastry, Home, Christiansen's Danish, Kientz's Pastry Shop, and Novato Bakery.

William W. Hendricks of Lagunitas Road, Ross, was reported in "good" condition at Ross General Hospital today after suffering a heart attack at his home last night.

department must be given, action was deferred because of pending study and possible reorganization of the department. Having recently boosted pay of the physician in the Novato area from $150 to $300 due to increased workload, the board agreed to do the same for West Marin.

Of the planning department, Elliott reported that Director B. D. Dobbs has proposed substantial increases for his professional staff and that undoubtedly Marin County planners are below salary ranges of other jurisdictions. But he said no detailed study has been made yet so any abrupt upgrading would be premature. As a stopgap, he suggested one-range (5 per cent) increases for all the professional positions. The board felt this was reasonable.

Newly appointed Parks and Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson was included for this boost, and Gnoss made a point of remarking that many people in the Novato area had been most favorably impressed by Nelson and felt the board had made "a fine choice."

Flood Plan Supported By Clausen

Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), has promised to support moves to advance the Corte Madera flood control project, Kentfield Civic League directors were told last night.

Allen G. Wright, league president, read a letter of June 5 from the congressman saying in part:

"The House appropriations committee will hear evidence June 18 from California witnesses regarding public works appropriations for next year. The California Water Commission plans to ask for $20,000 for advance engineering and design on Corte Madera Creek. I intend to support this recommendation and sincerely hope the appropriation will be granted to get this necessary project under way."

Supervisor Castro Undergoing Tests

Walter R. Castro, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, where he is undergoing tests to determine the cause of his illness.

Castro was hospitalized after he fainted in Superior Court Feb. 20. He returned to work and then 10 days ago entered Marin General Hospital.

Group Foster Home For Girls Asked

Establishment of a group foster home to care for at least six girls who otherwise would be kept at juvenile hall without sufficient justification was proposed to county supervisors today by the Friends of Arequipa.

Mrs. Jacob Lindenbaum, president, said the foundation would set up at its own expense a home primarily for the benefit of the juvenile court, with the county paying operating expenses estimated at $390 monthly for each girl.

Total cost of operating would be $2,354.50 monthly, according to an attached schedule which Mrs. Lindenbaum said was compiled on a basis of advice from others including juvenile hall and the Sunny Hills home.

Girls to be cared for, said the letter, would be those with few family ties, no personal resources but ability to adjust to public school attendance. They would not be of a type requiring institutional care but because of "bitter past experiences" could not fit into a typical family home.

All four supervisors present expressed general approval, but Chairman William D. Fusselman ruled the matter must be taken up during regular budget discussions.

Supervisor George Ludy voiced the view that the Arequipa project probably would actually lighten the present county financial burden as well as proving socially constructive.

2 Objections Filed Against Dredging Plan

Two objections were filed with the Army Corps of Engineers to proposed dredging of the boat channel in San Rafael Bay, but one objection has been resolved and the other does not apply.

A spokesman for the corps today said that the State Department of Fish and Game raised one objection but this has been resolved beween the department and developer L. H. Lincoln of Lafayette.

Lincoln plans to deepen the channel from eight to 14.5 feet for 11,000 feet. The sand will be used for fill on the proposed Marin Cayes project, a 170-acre residential devlopment with a lagoon and apartments south of San Rafael Creek.

A second objection arose from a property owner who claims his rights are being violated, the corps spokesman said. The spokesman would not name the objector but said the matter was not germane to the engineering aspects of the application.

Deadline for protest was today, but the corps will consider any other objections that were postmarked no later than today. More could come in in the next few days, the spokesman said.

2 Drivers Hurt In Highway Crash

Two drivers were bruised about 8:04 a.m. yesterday in a rear-end auto collision on Highway 101 about one-quarter mile north of Hamilton Air Force gate.

A car driven by Roger L. Kuns, 25, of Daly City hit one driven by Chester A. Williamson, 55, of 10 Red Rock Way, San Rafael, reported California Highway Patrolman T. W. Foley. Both were northbound.

Both drivers were to see their doctors. Kuns was cited for speeding.

as well as State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

Carol Gold, chairman of the Marin Bodega Bay committee, wrote that contamination from the nuclear power plant planned by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at Bodega Head could affect Marin's milk supply.

Behr said there should be expert opinion on such subjects.

"The problem is not in this county and is not properly before this board," said acting Chairman William D. Fusselman. But he agreed that representatives should be aware of any possible effect on Marin as long as the board "takes no action for or against the plant itself."

In a second motion by Supervisor William A. Gnoss, the board agreed to ask for an amendment to a proposed State Assembly bill which would put responsibility for any damage from the plant on the company controlling it. The amendment was requested by Joel W. Hedgpeth, director of the Pacific Marine Station.

The other patrons were Ona F. Kromrel, 1218 Grand Avenue, Apt. 5, and Harlan W. Jorgensen, 261 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

The gunman was described as about 30 years old, six feet one inch tall, 155 pounds, with black hair and brown eyes, wearing khaki pants and shirt. He also wore white gloves.

Police believe there may have been an accomplice driving the car, because of the speed with which it left the scene.

Risso said the bandit would have taken more money, except that most of the night's receipts had just been put away.

the ICC decision, copies of which reached San Rafael today, "we are not convinced that the benefits to the applicant and the Southern Pacific from the proposed abandonment through increased system revenues and avoidance of capital expenditures would outweigh the adverse effects which will be suffered by the shipping public should the application be granted."

"We conclude," it goes on, "that the area has in the past and will in the foreseeable future generate sufficient traffic and revenues to support the restoration program and the continued through service."

Assembly Helps Our Baby Chicks

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California lawmakers have come to the aid of—baby chicks.

A bill passed by the Assembly last night would make it a misdmeanor to give away baby chicks, rabbits, ducklings or other fowl as a prize or as an inducement.

The same penalty would apply if you dyed any live fowl or rabbit.

Minor Subdivision Proposal Outlined

Senior county planner Edmund G. Kagi last night explained to members of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs the proposal for a minor subdivision ordinance.

The federation went on record, according to chairman I. W. Doerksen, as favoring study of such an ordinance.

Fairfax TV Service Is Granted $2 Raise

The Fairfax City Council last night granted a $2 per month raise to the city's franchised television service, which supplies a master antenna for residents in the Cascade area.

In effect, the raise to $5 granted Bob's TV and Sound of San Rafael amounted to only 50 cents, since owner Robert Lewis had raised the rate from $3 to $4.50 nine months ago without asking the council's permission.

The raise was granted after four persons picked at random from the crowd at the council meeting took a half-hour to sample television reception at four homes subscribing to the service.

Their report was unanimous. They agreed that reception on channels five and seven was "satisfactory" but that the picture on channel four was poor. Lewis said interference on four was common at this time of year.

Their report differed from comments made at the council meeting and the findings of councilmen during informal polls that reception on all three channels was poor.

Lewis said these complaints were an "exaggeration . . . we don't claim perfection. This kind of thing develops when a raise is asked."

Councilmen denied Lewis request for a raise to $7.50, stating that they wanted to find out what other television antenna services charged. The TV Signal Corp. of San Francisco indicated by letter to the council that it was interested in serving Fairfax.

A proposal by Bill's Radio and Television of San Francisco to provide antenna service for seven television channels and all FM radio bands in the Deer Park area was heard by the council, which decided to watch a demonstration before making a decision.

San Rafael Police Seeking Arrest In Checks, Car Case

A statewide bulletin has been issued by San Rafael police for the arrest of Robert G. Gibson, 46, of Sacramento, on a charge of grand theft and a bad check involved in the purchase of a car on May 21 from Rossi's Garage, 626 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

According to police, when Gibson paid the down payment for the car, the Wells Fargo bank in Sacramento advised the garage that Gibson had sufficient funds in his bank account to cover the $400 check.

A few days later, the bank reversed its earlier statement and said that Gibson's account was closed in 1958.

Police said that Gibson is also wanted as a parole violator and by Sacramento police for bad checks.

Tomales High Budget Is Up $17,608 From Current Year

A tentative 1963-64 budget for Tomales High School District, up $17,608 from the current year, was submitted to trustees last night by Supt. Anthony Matulich.

The budget calls for expenditure of $248,709, compared to $231,101 this year.

There can be no increase in the tax rate because the district is operating at the maximum operating rate authorized by voters, $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, Matulich said. It also levies eight cents in over-ride taxes and 26 cents for junior college tuition, for a total rate of $1.63. The district has no bonded indebtedness.

A representative of the Royal Globe insurance group presented the board with an accident insurance plan of $4.25 per student. This does not cover football players. Matulich was instructed to investigate other policies also.

Resignations of Howard McGlone, mathematics teacher, and Gynne Arnold, French and English teacher were accepted.

The board voted to thank retiring Trustee Ralph Cheda for his 11 years of "untiring efforts on behalf of the district." Dr. Frederick J. Saam of Point Reyes Station will replace Cheda on the board July 1.

The board adjourned to noon on July 1 to hold its reorganizational meeting.

Shopping Center Plan Gains

Architectural approval for a shopping center on 7.83 acres at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue was granted to John Novak, Inc., last night by the Novato Planning Commission.

Plans call for a supermarket, department store, drug store and several smaller shops, with building area to total 73,842 square feet.

The commission also approved the tentative maps of Jade Gardens, a six-lot subdivision on two acres on Vallejo Avenue near Clayton Court planned by McGillicuddy, Inc., and of Vineyard Terrace unit 2, eight lots on two acres between Vineyard Road and Center Road, planned by Stone Castle Development Co.

Dr. Ralph J. Wesemen was granted architectural supervision for a 1,445-square foot addition to the Twinbrook Medical Center at 1324 Grant Avenue.

Put over to June 24 were L. J. Peterson's request for permission to divide three acres into three lots at 752 McClay Road, Wells Fargo Bank's proposal for 76-lot Woodland Heights subdivision on 30 acres, and Gus Ravetz's request for rezoning from trailer to apartment use of 10 acres at Railroad and Olive avenues.

Kentfield School Unit Approves 1964 Budget

A fiscal 1964 budget of $826,001, up $39,205.40 from the current year, was approved 3-0 by the Kentfield School District board last night, subject to change at the July 1 meeting.

Increased income will result from applying the maximum tax rate of $2.25 per $100 of assessed valuation and increased valuation in the district, said Supt. Howard C. Harmon.

An increase of $41,000 in teachers salaries plus "minor increases in other classifications" are partially offset by a decrease in amounts budgeted for capital outlay, said Harmon.

The Kentfield School District board also:

1. Awarded a contract for furniture for the Adaline E. Kent School library to American Seating Co., lowest bidder at $7,011.21.

2. Continued consideration of plans for a new addition to Wolfe Grade School to July 1.

3. Authorized Harmon to proceed with grounds improvements listed in the budget for all three schools so the work may be completed this summer.

4. Received resignations of four teachers: Elizabeth Appleby, third grade, Julia Reeves, sixth grade, and Selma White, first grade, at Wolfe Grade School, and Loretta Da Valle, second grade, Kent School.

5. Hired James McDaniel, 33, of Colorado Springs, Colo., as physical education teacher at Kent School at $7,300 a year.

6. Approved an administrative handbook subject to revision in September.

7. Scheduled these summer board meetings: July 1 to elect a new president and clerk of the board; July 15 to adopt the publication budget, and Aug. 5 to hold a public hearing and approve the final budget.

Trustees Henry G. Hayes and George McKenna were absent.

Jane Marsh Gets Degree In Music

Jane F. Marsh, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earle M. Marsh, 118 Woodbine Drive, Mill Valley, received a bachelor of music degree from the Conservatory of Music at Oberlin College in Ohio yesterday.

Miss Marsh, who majored in voice, was soprano soloist with the Oberlin orchestra and received the Faustina Hurlbutt Prize Fund for achievement in voice. She also placed in the top 10 in the finals of the Metropolitan Opera auditions and spent her junior year at Mozarteum in Salsburg, Austria.

Shop Building Inspection Is Requested

Trustees of the Tomales High School District last night voted to request the State Division of Architecture to inspect the shop building before any action is taken on a bond issue for building repairs and improvement.

The gymnasium and music buildings were built subsequent to the Field Act and therefore come up to the earthquake-resistant standards set in that act, said Supt. Anthony Matulich.

The main building has been inspected, but not the shop. George Quesada, architect, has estimated cost of repairs to the main building at $71,500.

E. Warren McGuire, county counsel, informed the trustees by letter that they have three choices on the repairs: (1) submit a bond issue to the voters, (2) submit a tax increase to the voters, or (3) abandon the buildings.

The trustees discussed putting all three propositions on a ballot for the voters to decide, but reached no decision.

Can't Find Number; Baby Almost Dies

An emergency number in the Marin County telephone directory for use in getting a doctor in a hurry appears only on page 257 in the yellow pages.

Difficulty in finding the number very nearly caused the death of a 2-year-old Ross boy Friday night who had swallowed paint thinner, according to Mrs. Richard P. Gatterdam of 33 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo.

She wrote the Independent-Journal saying that the emergency arose when she was visiting a friend's home. Peter Vorhees, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Vorhees, 77 Lagunitas Road, Ross, had swallowed paint thinner.

Mrs. Gatterdam said the mother was unable to reach the family doctor. Mrs. Gatterdam, who had read in the Independent-Journal about the emergency number some months back, tried to find it.

It was not among the other emergency listings in front of the book and it was nowhere in the "white pages." When Mrs. Gatterdam called the operator, the operator told her to call information.

"I told the operator the child would be dead by the time I found the number," Mrs. Gatterdam said.

The situation was resolved when the family doctor learned of the call and called the Vorhees home. The child was rushed to Marin General Hospital at 10 p.m. His stomach was pumped and the boy was sent home.

"Your article," Mrs. Gatterdam wrote the I-J, "led me to believe that each and every police, fire and medical answering service would have this number at their fingertips, also that the new telephone directory would have it printed prominently at the head of 'emergency numbers.'"

The number is in a paid advertisement in the yellow pages under "P" for "Physicians and Surgeons Answering Bureaus." It is also the day and night call for the Marin Medical Society.

A medical society spokesman said today the number is frequently used by persons who know how to find it, but that a more prominent position in the book seems needed. Prompt application for a better position in the book will be made, said Geoffrey Blankfort, medical society secretary.

San Rafael Bar Hearing Is Canceled

A State Alcoholic Control Board hearing involving the Old Fashioned, 1105 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was cancelled yesterday because the operators stipulated to the charges, the board reported today.

The Old Fashioned is closed under a 40-day suspension for after hour sales and selling to obviously intoxicated persons.

Defendants were Wayne Brooks and William G. Taylor.

A hearing involving Al's Liquor Store at 5939 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, scheduled for today, has been taken off the calendar and no new hearing date set, the board reported.

The store is charged with selling liquor to a minor. Defendants are K. Darroll Ashpole and Edric C. and Marcella W. Noon.

Novato Boy Jailed For Taking Auto

A 14-year-old Novato boy was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday for taking a car without its owner's permission.

Alex S. Consagra of 10 Gothic Court told Novato police the boy took the car while it was parked in front of John Novak's office at 1780 Grant Avenue. Novak saw the boy take the car. He and Consagra chased it to Raposa Vista and Novato Boulevard.

The boy told police that he had an argument with his mother and was angry.

The car was not damaged, police reported.

Richardson Bay Slates Graduation

The 79 graduates of Sausalito's Richardson Bay School will hear an address at graduation ceremonies at 8 p.m. Thursday by Beverly Barnes, a Richardson Bay alumna.

Miss Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Barnes of Marin City, was graduated from Richardson Bay School in 1955, Tamalpais High School in 1959 and from Whittier College, Whittier, last Saturday.

She will teach history at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo this fall as an intern under sponsorship of University of California.

Miss Barnes was active in the student body at Richardson Bay and Tamalpais High. She was an American Field Service exchange student in 1958 and received the Daughters of American Revolution good citizenship award as well as a scholarship from several Marin City organizations. She will speak on "The Responsibility Is Yours."

Mrs. Juanita Cobb, president of the Sausalito School District board, will present diplomas, and Supt. Marcus F. Davis will speak briefly.

The Sausalito School District Orchestra will play. Rev. Donald Schilling, pastor of Marin City Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation and benediction. The eighth grade class will sing the graduation song.

$50,000 Suit Filed In Death

Mrs. Anna C. Bon of Kentfield filed a $50,000 damage suit yesterday for the death of her husband, who was struck by a car while walking across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard last Nov. 14.

She filed the suit in Marin Superior Court against J. Norman Hendrickson of Ross, driver of the car.

Herbert P. Bon, 70, a retired underground construction foreman for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., was walking across Drake Boulevard in heavy traffic when the mishap occurred. His widow seeks $50,000 general damages plus funeral and other costs.

Tax Stamp To Stay On Cigarette Pack

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state tax stamp will continue to appear on your cigarette packages.

The Senate revenue and taxation committee defeated an Assembly-passed bill yesterday to change from the stamp to the invoice method of collecting the stamp. The committee said the stamps prevent bootlegging.

Good Samaritan Unwittingly Aids Youths After Stolen Car Crashes

San Rafael police and the California Highway Patrol today sought three boys who were unwittingly aided in their getaway by a good Samaritan after their stolen car collided yesterday afternoon with another vehicle headon on Los Ranchitos Road near the Starlight Club.

The driver and two passengers of the large 1951 car ran across a field immediately after the accident, but were caught by Jay McCann, 504 McClay Road, Novato, a heavy equipment operator working nearby.

"Where are you going?" he asked.

"To phone the police," one answered.

"I'll give you a ride to a telephone," McCann offered. He later told police he drove the boys into San Rafael, dropped them off near a grocery store, and waited for them. They never showed up.

Driver of the other car, Sandy L. Meinzer, 17, of 105 Hawthorne Way, San Rafael, was unhurt. She said the car with the youths rounded a corner at her at high speed on the wrong side of the road.

The car is owned by Lee Roy Collins, who said he left it with a friend at 140 Front Street, San Rafael. The friend, Kenneth H. Swanander, reported the car missing this morning.

Corte Madera Planners Rule For Service Station

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night overruled the town board of design by 2-1 vote to grant Douglas Oil Co. of Santa Clara approval of plans for a service station at Corte Madera and Redwood avenues.

The design board held the station would add to traffic congestion. Planning commissioners pointed out the location was used by a service station previously.

Approval was voted by Commissioners Jennings W. Smith and Norman Eaton, with chairman W. C. Thomas dissenting and Harold B. Wagstaff absent. There is one vacancy on the five-member commission.

The commission denied an appeal by W. L. McCormick of Kentfield of board of adjustments rejection of plans for a duplex on substandard space at 231 Corte Madera Avenue.

It continued to July 8 discussion of plans for the Uplands, 342 apartments on the south side of Paradise Drive east of Marin Country Day School.

Commuters Get Parking In Fairfax

More commuter parking will be provided in Fairfax starting tomorrow.

The Fairfax City Council last night instructed the street department to level an area adjacent to the ball park today which should provide spaces for 75 cars. There will be no time limit on parking.

The request was made by the Fairfax Merchants Assn. which two weeks ago was granted its request for two-hour parking in the parkade. The two-hour limit, replacing all-day and four-hour parking, will go into effect when parking signs are placed in the parkade. It will have a 90-day trial period.

The council's decision was made after Gordon B. Adams, a commuter, suggested that the only weapon commuters had against merchants was the threat of "a complete boycott of Fairfax stores."

The Fairfax City Council also:

1. Decided to set up a study committee to go over proposals by Simpson, Stratta and Associates and San Francisco architect John Goodhue Clay to plan new or renovated city buildings.
2. Received a letter of resignation from Ralph Ford who said that because of "further education" he would be unable to serve on the park and recreation commission.
3. Set June 15 as the deadline for receiving an answer from San Rafael Associates as to whether they would pay for repairing Frustuck Avenue, damaged by excavations for an apartment project.
4. Referred to Street Supt. William Dooley petitions by Bothin Road residents for paving of the road.
5. Adjourned to June 25 to study the budget and take up unfinished business.

Vandals Run Amuck In School

Vandals broke into Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda during the weekend and ran amuck inside, sheriff's deputies reported.

Principal Charles Skutt discovered the burglary yesterday. The thieves had entered through the roof window in room 104 and slid down the wall. They drank and poured out one and one-half cases of soft drinks, turned on the television set, and left a note saying, "Thanks for letting us use your TV—(signed) Boy."

The intruders stole gum, a pencil, a pen, a baseball bat, and about 15 cents from a teacher's desk.

Retiring? Get more "life" out of your life savings!

When you retire, you are faced with the problem of providing an adequate income during the remaining years of your life.

You could invest your capital in "safe" securities and live off the interest. But you may be forced to dip into capital to supplement the interest these securities provide.

This brings up another, more pressing problem. How do you make sure that you will not outlive your capital?

If you invest in a Manufacturers Life Annuity, you can use your capital safely to increase the income you receive. These annuities scientifically use both capital and interest to provide worry-free income as long as you live. If you are 65 when you buy your annuity, your annual income could be as high as 9.2% of the amount you invest.

Annuities are available in many forms. The Man from Manufacturers can explain the advantage of each—and help you choose one to fit your needs. Call him today.

APARTMENTS PROPOSAL DUE PLANNERS TONIGHT

Plans for a block development of 40 fourplex apartments between Larkspur and Novato streets on Bellam Boulevard will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting in city hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

Brennan Enos plans the fourplexes, five to a lot, on property once held by Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. That firm planned a multi-million dollar complex of nine-story apartments in the block, but plans were withdrawn. Brennan is seeking architectural approval.

In other business, the planning commission will consider the request for architectural approval for a new showroom and office building planned by Ames Ford just east of the firm's present location on Francisco Boulevard.

The commission also will consider architectural approval for an 80-unit apartment proposed by Clinton Land Co. at 3 Woodland Avenue.

Application of the San Rafael High School District for architectural approval on a utility building will be taken up again by the commission. The application was held over from last meeting with the request that the district revise its plans for a more attractive looking structure.

Dixie Trustees Will Open Bids For Addition

The board will also consider a salary schedule for administrative personnel, health insurance for non-teaching employees, and the 1963-64 budget.

Boy Hurt Running Into Moving Car

A 4-year-old boy making a dash for an ice cream truck ran into a slowly moving car in San Rafael Saturday night and suffered a head cut and bump.

David H. Schaefer of 318 C Street was so eager to join a swarm of his playmates that he dashed between two parked cars in front of his house just as Hans A. Zucklsdorf of 535 Jacoby Street was approaching northbound.

The boy struck the left side of the car and fell to the street. Taken to San Rafael General Hospital, he was treated by the family physician. Police investigation held Zucklsdorff blameless.

Awakened Giants Seek Sweep Over Dodgers Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants were happy on two counts today — breaking out of a seven-game losing streak and doing it at Los Angeles against the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

It took the famed Giants' power to bring them out of their slump as they scored five runs on homers by Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda and Ed Bailey to achieve the 7-3 victory.

For tonight's finale of the two-game series, Don Drysdale, 7-6, opposes Juan Marichal, 8-3, in a battle of righthanders and Manager Walt Alston announced he would load his lineup with lefthanded hitting, starting Willie Davis and Wally Moon in the outfield to give him six southpaw hitters.

"The best place for us to break out of that slump was against the Dodgers," Manager Alvin Dark beamed after the game. "All those hits were big ones but the biggest was Cepeda's."

The first baseman smashed relief pitcher Ron Perranoski's high ball over the centerfield fence some 410 feet from the plate. There was some question whether it was the longest homer Cepeda had ever hit but he said it was the most satisfactory one.

"I don't think I could hit it any further," he said when asked about the eighth-inning smash.

The blow broke a 3-3 deadlock and the other three runs came in the ninth and merely proved insurance for the Giants.

The victory went to Don Larsen who took over in relief of starter Billy Pierce in the sixth inning and shut out the Dodgers for 3⅓ innings on one hit. It was Larsen's first win of the season.

GAME ON TELEVISION

KTVU, Channel 2, will televise tonight's game starting at 7:30 p.m. with a pre-game show.

"Larsen did quite a job out there," Dark continued. "I was not thinking of taking him out even when he loaded the bases on walks in the eighth, unless he had walked Jim Gilliam and forced in a run."

But Gilliam was called out on strikes and narrowly escaped being ejected by plate umpire Stan Landes because of his violent protest.

Despite the loss, the Dodgers remained in first place by two percentage points over the St. Louis Cardinals whose game was rained out while the Giants moved up to one game back of the leaders.

Bob Miller started for the Dodgers and gave up three runs but was the pitcher of record when the home club tied the score in the sixth inning and escaped the loss which went to Perranoski although Pete Richert gave up three runs in the ninth, two of them on Bailey's 12th homer of the season. Cepeda's four-bagger was also his 12th while McCovey's two-run homer in the first inning was his 10th.

Although he did not break in on the home run barrage, Willie Mays played an active part in the victory with three consecutive singles with his third hit in the fifth inning scoring Chuck Hiller who walked, stole second and went to third on Jim Davenport's sacrifice.

Dick Tracewski tripled home catcher John Roseboro in the second inning. The Dodgers picked up their second run in the fourth when Miller recorded his first hit of the season with the bases loaded but Maury Wills grounded out to end any further threat. They scored their final run in the sixth on Wills' single that scored Tracewski from second.

Meek And Humble Giants Become Terrors To Overpower Dodgers

CONNOLLY

LOS ANGELES—There's hope yet for the S. F. Giants. Battered and bruised, they showed their fangs to a hostile Dodger mob of 52,993 last night to creep up within one game of first place.

It took quite a bit of strategy and a lot of wig-wagging from the bench by Manager Alvin Dark to steady a confused lineup, but the lefthanded thinkers obeyed and in the end were rewarded by a victory.

The boys from Candlestick Park were a meek and humble looking aggregation as they answered the hundreds of queries thrown at them on account of their seven-game losing streak.

Out of the melee of questions, I discovered:

(A) No dissension;

(B) No Mays and Cepeda jealousy;

(C) A few whimpers from those who talk out of the side of their mouthes about skipper Dark's constant punishment over fines and batting practice sessions.

"WE'LL WIN it yet," explains Dark.

"For the last six weeks we haven't played our best, but we still managed to be on top.

"The lack of co-ordinating, hitting, pitching and base running took a heavy toll.

"But our players never once lost heart, nor the will to win. I think our pitchers are more stabilized now and will steady down."

The two Willies' — McCovey and Mays — plus the towering home runs by Orlando Cepeda and Ed Bailey, put the Dodgers deep in the well last night.

THERE ISN'T any question in the minds of Giant fans that the power of the San Franciscans will eventually wear down the opposition.

"Chub" Feeney, the Giant vice president, laughed as he discussed the approach of the trade zero hour for acquiring pitching help.

"We have until Saturday before the door closes on us," Feeney stated rather reluctantly but with an Irish twinkle in his eyes.

Felipe Alou was asked how soon he intended to practice "preaching."

"We gotta win some ball games," was all he would say.

Stories of recent date say Alou will quit to become a minister in another year or two. But other members of the team scoff at any thoughts of Felipe quitting so soon.

Jimmy Davenport, when asked what ails the club, said "There is nothing wrong with us a little luck won't cure."

YOU HAVE only to recall last night's play over TV to realize how frustrating the play of Orlando Cepeda can be. With the bags loaded and one out he reebly hit into a double play.

But with the blue chips down and the score tied in the eighth, the Baby Bull rode a 410-foot homer over the centerfield fence.

The fate of Billy Pierce, who took off on a flying start on McCovey's two-run home run in the first inning, was doomed in third when Cepeda choked off a rally with his double play back to the pitcher.

Dark adopted the "Connolly System" of getting runs one at a time in the fifth when he allowed Jimmy Davenport to sacrifice in the clutch. The play gave the Giants insurance in the ninth inning when he had McCovey try for a sacrifice. The attempted bunt turned into an infield single that proved a big inning because of Ed Bailey's skyrocket home run into the rightfield bleachers.

TONIGHT THE Giants will face their arch enemy when Don Drysdale faces Juan Marichal. Another sellout crowd is anticipated.

Following the 7-3 victory the Giant clubhouse was afire with compliments, most of them concerning the two Willies—Mays and McCovey—and the two big fence busters, Cepeda and Bailey.

In the Dodger clubhouse the big comment was how many home runs would the Giants make in a season if they played all their games at Chavez Ravine.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Cepeda Juggling 'Books'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Professor Al Dark: Give Orlando Cepeda another plus.

Maybe even two.

For it was the big, powerful first baseman who got the job done for San Francisco last night, shaking the Giants out of a seven-game losing skid with a 430-foot homer in the eighth inning that snapped a tie and led to a 7-3 victory over the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Cepeda hit .306 last year with 35 homers and 114 runs batted in, but wound up on the wrong side of the ledger in a grading system of plus and minus marks kept by Manager Dark. Now Cepeda's out to juggle the books and erase his demerits.

Cepeda his his game-winner off Dodger relief specialist Ron Perranoski leading off the eighth. The homer, Cepeda's 12th, to go with 40 runs batted in and a .308 average, broke a 3-3 tie and ended the Dodgers' five-game winning streak.

The triumph moved the defending Giants, tied for third place with Chicago, to within one game of the front-running Dodgers with another clash to go in their two-game series. St. Louis, rained out at Pittsburgh, is in second place, now only .002 points behind Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs edged Houston 3-2 on Ken Hubbs' run-scoring single in the ninth inning, the New York Mets downed Cincinnati 3-2 and Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 6-2 in a game held to 5½ innings by rain.

In the American League, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 3-2, Detroit belted Boston 6-1, the Los Angeles Angels thumped Kansas City 13-3 and New York and Washington swapped shutouts. The Yankees won 7-0, the Senators 1-0. Firstplace Chicago and Minnesota were not scheduled.

Hubbs delivered his decisive hit following a single by Dick Bertell and a sacrifice. The run was the first earned off Colts reliever Hal Woodeshick in 22 innings of relief work and tagged him with his second loss against five victories. Lindy McDaniel, who came on for Chicago in the eighth, won it for a 4-1 record. Billy Williams hit a homer for the Cubs and Howie Goss connected for Houston.

Tracy Stallard, 1-3, picked up his first victory since Sept. 3, 1961, by checking the Reds on seven hits and cutting off a ninth inning rally after Cincinnati had closed to within one run. Tim Harkness' seventh inning homer off Joey Jay, a 21-game winner last year, turned out to be the deciding run for the Mets and sent the Cincinnati right-hander down to his ninth defeat. He has won three.

Ray Culp, Philadelphia's 21-year-old bonus baby, won his eighth game by holding the Braves to four hits in the rain-shortened game. One of the hits off Culp, 8-3, was a two-run homer by Ed Mathews. Mathews' error in left field helped the Phillies to two runs in the fourth inning and they wrapped it up with three more in the fifth. Bob Hendley, 4-4, was the loser.

Gymnasts Defy AAU Threat

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Gymnastics Federation announced an all-star field today for its first national meet this week end despite, it said, threat of suspensions by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Frank L. Bare, executive secretary of the USGF with headquarters in Tucson, Ariz., said that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's edict last week in the AAU-Track and Field Federation dispute "has nothing to do with gymnastics."

The general, appointed by President Kennedy to get the warring factions in line until after the 1964 Olympics, told the track federation to let its athletes run in the national AAU championships at St. Louis June 21-22 without any strings attached.

"You would think that Gen. MacArthur now would be in a position to tell the AAU to let its gymnasts compete in our meet under the same circumstances," said Bare. "But our case has not advanced as far as the track and field matter.

"The AAU has threatened to black-list gymnasts competing in our meets, but so far it hasn't carried out the threats."

"As far as I know, we will have most of the top gymnasts for our national meet Friday and Saturday (at Maine East High School in suburban Des Plaines)," said Bare "We expect about 60. There are three, however — who were among those told by the AAU at its national meet in Philadelphia June 1-2 that they will be suspended if they compete in our meet—who will not be here.

"They are Makato Sakamoto, 15-year-old Los Angeles high school student; service man Greg Weiss, formerly of Penn State, and Armondo Vego of Los Angeles, also a former Penn stater. The AAU threat has scared away these outstanding all-around performers."

In New York, Col. Don Hull, executive director, said that athletes who are not college students could be ruled ineligible for future AAU-sponsored events if they compete in the USGF tournament.

But he added that the chances are that they will not be barred because "we are trying not to cause any trouble that isn't necessary." He said the AAU is not concerned with college student participation in the USGF.

USC Falls To Texas In NCAA

OMAHA (AP)—Texans and Missouri are deepest in the good pitching necessary for a week-long tournament grind but the luck of the draw brings them together tonight in the second round of the college World Series.

The two frequent entries in the NCAA baseball tournament scored the most impressive first round victories yesterday. And it was solid pitching that sent them into the winner's bracket with Arizona and Florida State.

Bob Myer, a fire-balling junior, hurled a five-hit 8-3 victory for Texas over 1961 champion Southern California and struck out 11.

Unbeaten Keith Weber pitched a six-hitter as Missouri edged Holy Cross 3-0.

Both Missouri and Texas have more strong pitchers ready to keep going hot in the double elimination tourney.

The Longhorns, in their third straight college World Series, will send Charley Hartenstein (6-2), who has had the experience in the tournament last year, against Missouri. The Tigers' unbeaten sophomore sensation Jack Stroud (5-0) will oppose him.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Arizona also received some good pitching from Sherwin Scott, who celebrated his 21st birthday yesterday with a six-hit 8-1 triumph over Penn State.

Florida State, with a shaky pitching staff, turned two Western Michigan errors into three unearned runs in the ninth inning for a 5-2 victory.

Arizona will play Florida State tonight before the Texas-Missouri game.

Western Michigan plays Penn State and Southern California meets Holy Cross today in afternoon loser's bracket survival tests.

At 42, Spahn Still Learning; 'An Artist With Imagination'

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — The more time you spend with Warren Spahn the more he ceases to impress you as a superlative pitcher. Instead he strikes you as a particularly gracious man.

And like most gracious men, the brilliant left-handed pitcher of the Milwaukee Braves doesn't realize his own greatness.

"A pitcher has to keep learning," said the man who has won more games than Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell, Herb Pennock, Rube Waddell, Eddie Plank or any other southpaw who ever challenged a hitter.

"They say I'm a polished pitcher. To an extent, they're right and I appreciate the compliment, but I'm still learning.

"I'll keep right on doing it as long as I'm in baseball. When I stop learning. I'll be through."

Spahn's incredible hunger for pitching knowledge goes a long way to explaining why, at an age, 42, when most athletes are sitting home by the fireplace reading their fading clippings, he stands at the top of his profession.

Stan Musial, another old codger who doesn't know when he's had enough, once referred to Spahnie as "an artist with imagination."

Spahn is one of the most intelligent men I have ever met," said Bobby Bragen, manager of the Braves. "If Warren had gone to college he couldn't have missed being a Phi Beta Kappa man."

"You've got to think all the time you're out there on the mound," Spahn contended.

"You've got to think up different ways to get the hitter out. You've got to watch for certain giveaways, something that will give you an edge on the hitter.

"You can't afford to become stagnant. The hitters won't let you stay around if you do."

With more years behind you than you might care to remember, with the smoke on your fast ball admittedly thinned to a slight haze, what concessions do you make to the hitters today, Spahn was asked.

"You don't make any concessions," replied the man who numbers 2 no-hitters, 56 shutouts, a dozen 20-victory seasons and nearly 340 major league triumphs among his amazing achievements.

"If you concede one little thing, pretty soon you find yourself conceeding another, then another, and before you know it, you have become run of the mill."

But you can't ignore the fact that by an athletes standards, you are an old man, the questioner persisted.

"I can't admit that I'm old," was the answer. "Everybody says baseball is a young man's game, and if I'm old what am I doing in it?

"I cannot and must not fall back on my age or my reputation to command preferential treatment, respect or favors of any kind. I've got to deliver. I'm competing in a business against younger arms and younger legs, but I have to do all the things they do and do them better.

"I know this: If Spahn doesn't win there are three left-handers on the club ready to take my job."

"When I'm out there on the mound, I make up my mind I'm the best damned pitcher in baseball," he said, "and I'm as good if not better than any hitter who comes up to face me."

LISTON-CLAY TITLE FIGHT 'SET' SEPT. 30

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald said today that champion Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay have agreed to meet for the heavyweight boxing title at Philadelphia Sept. 30.

Columnist Bud Collins quoted Bob Nilon, brother of Liston's advisor from Philadelphia, Jack Nilon, as saying the bout has been agreed to and his brother is en route to London with an agreement for Clay to sign.

Nilon said the fight is contingent upon Liston beating Floyd Patterson in their return match at Las Vegas July 22, and upon Clay whipping Henry Cooper in London June 16.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Here Today, Gone Tomorrow; That Describes The Bass Situation

STEVENS

Here today but gone tomorrow. That's a phrase that rather aptly describes striper fishing hither and yon. For six hectic days the eager anglers reaped a harvest while trolling the San Bruno Shoals area. Limit catches were the rule rather than the exception. From both sides of the bay small craft bucked the elements and returned triumphant to their respective ports. It happened most of last week. Then came Friday.

Dick Payne of the San Lorenzo Bait emporium reported about 100 or more boats plying the area. He caught one nice bass only, and saw dozens of boats faring no better. He did notice that one boat made the grade with limits, but the majority drew blanks or near blanks. Saturday was a carbon copy of Friday. Dick again landed one fish, a 12-pounder, and again witnessed a flock of blanks. We must assume that the huge schools of stripers have departed that area temporarily.

Perhaps part of the San Bruno schools came north. Two boats, the Troller and the R.S.P., trolled the Berkeley Flats and did themselves proud on Saturday. The troller, according to the Lee Anderson Baitery in Oakland, docked with 14 bass to 18 pounds; the RSP unloaded 10 beauties to 23 pounds.

Lee Anderson also mentioned fair salmon trolling out near the Farallones. The Sea Horse on Saturday had 6 salmon to 15 pounds, the Lucky Day landed 8 to 10 pounds and the Phil Ray showed 16 salmon to 15 pounds.

The really good news, however, news we've been awaiting for a long time ,came from up the San Pablo Bay. Dowrelio's Johnny Sivera and his Happy Days boat hit the jackpot trolling in the late hours of Thursday, Friday and Saturday. On Thursday and Friday nights Johnny berthed around 8 o'clock with limits for each rod aboard. On Saturday he was a few fish short of limits all around, but still had 15 or more nice bass aboard. Fish apparently of good size; quite a few in the 10 to 12 pound class. Best action was had off Buoy 5.

I asked Dowrelio's what the other boats did, and was informed that there were no other boats out of Crockett. Here's hoping the good news is making the rounds and on our next report it will be a different story. In case you don't know, you can perform your daily tasks, jump in the car and highball for Crockett. Get there a bit before 5 p.m., board one of the party boats, garner a limit or near limit of striped bass and get back home in time for a late dinner.

Rod Adams, one of the regulars, told me he had watched a number of Fly and Plug casters whipping the Russian River water near Guernewood Park Beach on Memorial Day, and pulling in some nice shad. Could be there are still some left.

And that's it for today. Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Stan's Softball Team Wins Both Ends Of Twin Bill

Stan's Sport Shop softballers, with a pair of pitching gems, won both ends of a doubleheader Sunday night at Albert Field over the Old Mill Tavern team of Mill Valley, 6-2 and 7-1.

Dick Johnson pitched a three-hitter in the opener, his fourth win against one defeat. Buzz Keaton with two hits and two runs batted in led the Stan's 11-hit parade. Ron McCamish, Jerry Weirick and John Brookman also had two hits apiece.

In the second game, hurler Ron Patnaude gave up only two hits on his way to his third victory of the season. Keaton and McCamish again collected a pair of hits each. Duane Irving's bases-loaded triple was the big blow for the winners, now 9-4 on the season.

Raiders Sign Two West Grid Stars

OAKLAND (UPI)—Two West Coast college football stars, Bill Lecka and Doyle Bransom, have signed contracts to play professionally with the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League.

Leeka, 25, was a star lineman with UCLA in 1958. He was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National League but passed up pro football to go into the movies.

Bransom, a star halfback last season at Southern Oregon, was drafted 12th by the Raiders. Coach Al Davis said he hoped to try the speedster as a defensive halfback.

Novato Sanitary Budget $344,000

A preliminary 1963-64 budget of $344,000 was submitted to the Novato Sanitary District board last night by Albert Tresch, district manager.

The budget probably will not call for any increase in the 66-cent tax rate, and might even bring a slight increase due to increased valuation of the district, Tresch said.

Capital outlay of $258,000 is proposed, main items being a new clarifier and bio-filter at the Novato treatment plant and a force main from Olive Avenue to the plant.

Operating expenses are up to $36,000 from $32,000 this year; salaries up to $50,000 from $45,000.

"The large outlay for capital investment comes from accumulated funds over the years and will not call for any increase in taxes," Tresch said.

Edwin Grundstrom Jr., board member, outlined a tentative agreement with the City of Novato to allow the district to use city hall offices for storage of records and maps, district and city to make joint utilization of city personnel for inspections, and purchasing and accounting for the district to be done by the city. The board approved the agreement.

San Anselmo Council Going Over Budget

San Anselmo city councilmen continued an item-by-item discussion of the 1963-64 budget last night and decided to meet again next Tuesday night to make the big decisions.

The preliminary budget for the new fiscal year totals $697,000, which would mean a tax rate of $1.89 per $100 assessed valuation. The current tax rate is $1.875.

The big question still undecided is whether city employees will get an across-the-board salary raise of five per cent. If the salary raise is to be granted, substantial cuts will have to be made in other departments to keep the tax rate down.

Next Tuesday's budget session is set for 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Ex-Marin Employee Faces Checks Charge

William Rice, about 29, of San Rafael, a former employee of United Ambulance Co., was booked by Laguna Beach police Friday to appear in Marin Municipal Court June 19 to face a charge of bad checks.

San Rafael police said Rice passed two worthless checks for $50 apiece at United Markets.

Registration Rises At Baptist Seminary

Registration for the summer term at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary jumped 13 per cent over the same term last year, Mrs. Isma Martin, registrar, said today.

She reported 87 ministeral and religious education workers have entered graduate study this year at the Strawberry Point school as compared with 76 in the first summer term last year.

Austrians go to considerable pains to make the foreigner feel at home. They even outfit the city police with badges identifying the foreign languages they speak.

Thousands See Monk Burn Self To Death

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Tension rose in Saigon today as an aged Buddhist monk burned himself to death before thousands of onlookers.

The Rev. Quang Duc calmly put a match to his gasoline-soaked yellow robes at a main Saigon street intersection to protest alleged persecution of Buddhists by President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

The 300 monks surrounding him let out a wail. The burning man did not cry out. He remained sitting upright for several minutes before dying.

Monks lay in front of the wheels of nearby fire trucks to prevent them from moving.

The sacrifice capped a wave of Buddhist demonstrations against the government demanding religious freedom and social justice.

Buddhists make up about 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's population. The government, dominated by Roman Catholics including President Diem, denies it has discriminated against any religion.

Monks with loudspeakers delivered a funeral address over the charred remains and appealed in English to U.S. military advisers to Diem's forces to intervene in their behalf.

U.S. Embassy officials have said they cannot interfere in what they consider an internal affair. But they are deeply concerned that the explosive situation may even overturn the government.

Most observers feel the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas will capitalize on the turbulent situation. South Viet Nam's armed forces are largely Buddhist, and troop units have been diverted from the war against the Viet Cong to help check the religious demonstrations.

Pro-American Builds Up Lead In Peru Vote

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Peru appeared headed today for a return to civilian rule as Fernando Belaunde Terry, a U.S.-trained architect, built up a decisive lead in unofficial presidential election returns.

The ruling military junta, which annulled last year's election on fraud charges, remained silent on Sunday's balloting which was marred by voting irregularities. But they worked to the disadvantage of the military's chief opponents, the members of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre's American Popular Revolutionary Movement.

With the support of both Roman Catholics and Peru's small, outlawed Communist party, Belaunde held about 40 per cent of the vote. He was well ahead of the one-third plus one of the total votes required for election.

Despite his unsolicited Communist support, Belaunde is considered a staunch friend of the United States.

Haya de la Torre was running second. The military stepped in last year and voided the election when it appeared he would win. He led an antimilitary revolt in the 1930s.

Rail Strike Off At Least A Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Railroad union officials agreed today to hold off the threat of a nationwide rail strike until at least next week.

The proposal, advanced by Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, was accepted by the railroad companies yesterday.

Union officials considered the proposal this morning and then sent out telegrams announcing their agreements to the plan. They then resumed bargaining talks on the thorny work rules issue and the threat it poses to thousands of rail jobs.

Marin City 'Pole Houses' Are Placed On Public Sale

Eight of the original "pole houses" in Marin City were authorized to be placed on public sale yesterday by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency commission.

Prior to this the homes have been offered only to Marin City families who qualified to be relocated from other Marin City Housing.

Price of the homes to outside buyers will be at least $1,500 per unit in excess of the price to relocatees, said Bert Klahn, executive director of the agency.

Commissioners approved design for 36 additional pole houses but said, that before prices are approved, developers must present detailed drawings.

Appropriate Music Background

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Although social duties will be the major aspect of her year as the new president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Symphony Guild of Marin, Mrs. Maurice S. Saloman has an appropriate musical background for this kind of organization.

She is a graduate of Mills College with a major in music and piano as her instrument.

She will be the second president of this group organized in 1961 to handle the social and extracurricular activities of the Marin symphony and relieve the Symphony Guild of some of the managerial problems of that large organization.

MRS. MAURICE SALOMAN

MRS. ROBERT L. SCHULTZ of Mill Valley was the first president, who was elected to serve a second term.

Louise Saloman was for about three years coordinator of the popular Music for Minors programs sponsored by the guild.

Some of the major events she will be concerned with in the 1963-64 season will be the Downbeat Tea which opens the fall membership drive of the guild, the preview luncheons that precede the three symphony concerts under the direction of Sandor Salgo, the annual ball in January that is one of the outstanding events on the Marin social calendar, and the reception following the last concert which honors the musicians and conductor.

THE AUXILIARY is also in charge of the coffee hour at the last rehearsal before each concert.

Membership in the auxiliary is restricted to retiring women members of the Board of Directors of the Symphony Guild of Marin, wives of men on the board and women who have been personally invited and sponsored by other members.

MRS. SALOMAN was instrumental in starting and was the first president of the Woodland Sponsors, originally a Friends of Arequipa unit, which now consists of 50 members whose major purpose is raising money for camperships. Last year 18 were provided.

She also serves as a member of the Board of Governors of the Mills College Alumnae Assn. and as a Blue Bird leader for Camp Fire.

Her other interests are listening to music, gardening, golfing and sewing.

A NATIVE of San Francisco, Louise was graduated from Palo Alto High School before she attended Mills College. After her graduation she was employed as a medical secretary at Stanford Hospital, where she met her husband, an opthalmologist, who has offices in San Francisco and Terra Linda.

They and their two children, Barbara, 12, and Will, 14, have lived in Kent Woodlands for nine years.

Other new auxiliary officers are Mesdames Charles C. Clarke, vice president; Lee O. Stockford, treasurer; Edward M. Zeller, recording secretary; and Harry H. Dalton, corresponding secretary.

Needlework Guild To Hold Salad Luncheon On June 25

The Ross Valley Branch of the Needlework Guild of America is sponsoring a salad luncheon and bridge party on June 25 at 12:30 p.m., to be held at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

Mrs. Dwen R. Younger of San Anselmo and Mrs. Angus Clark of Ross are co-chairmen of the affair. Chairmen include the Mesdames Glen R. Gall and Thomas P. Cusick, awards; Mrs. Truman Clark, luncheon; Mrs. Don A. Younger, decorations, Mrs. Carl Riznik, tickets and reservations.

The Davies' other son, Jim, is studying architecture at California Polytechnic at San Luis Obispo where he has completed his freshman year. He arrives home tomorrow.

In Parker, Ariz. they swam in the Colorado River. They saw the Tuzigoot Montezuma national monuments and the homes of the ancient Indians. They toured the Oak Tree Canyon area and the Petrified Forest. The Mundos made an overnight stay at the Thunderbird Ranch House and next day took a ride on a jeep through the canyons of Del Muerto and De Chelly. They saw the Glen Canyon bridge and dam and went to Kaibib National Forest and on to the Grand Canyon. Tamalpais High School P-TA Honors Two With Awards

Mrs. Eugene Crawford of Mill Valley and Richard De Lew of Corte Madera were awarded P-TA life memberships in a surprise ceremony by Tamalpais High School Parent-Teacher Assn.

In making the presentations Mrs. John Binckley, chairman of the selection committee, listed their achievements and public services.

For Mrs. Crawford these include 12 years of work with P-TA, plus two years as president of the Family Service Agency board, membership on the board of Marin Council of Community Services and several years of work for United Bay Area Crusade as a member of its budget study committee and admission and allocations board.

SHE IS CURRENTLY hard at work as a member of the Marin County committee for school district organization which is studying unification.

De Lew, chief chemist for Yosemite Chemical Co. in San Francisco, is a familiar figure to Tamalpais High School students of the past 13 years, during which time he has always been available to those needing coaching in the natural sciences.

HIS INTEREST IN music has resulted in his helping with sound equipment for the various musical activities at high school, as well as his work with the choir, including the project which made its participation in the Olympic Games program possible. He has been manager of the Boosters' booth at athletic activities for two years and has for three years been fund raising committee chairman for the Tamalpais chapter of the American Field Service.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Most baby sitters today know the fundamentals of baby care but even the most competent ones are only as good as mothers help them to be. Suggestions for successful sitting:

- Sitter should be acquainted with your household—location of light switches, supplies, possible hazards, etc.
- Duties should be made clear from the start, with emphasis on baby care, not household chores.
- Written instructions on special baby duties, feeding, etc. are more reliable than oral ones.
- Snacks and soft drinks for your part-time parent sweeten sitting time.

Full-time parents can sweeten eatin' time by offering a goodly variety of good-tasting foods. Gerber offers over 50 pleasing, appeteasing strained foods for your baby . . . all prepared with the Gerber flair for preserving true-to-nature colors and flavors. Everything from fruits to vegetables, meats to dinners, juices to desserts. And each and every one is individually processed by specialists with special know-how in preserving the utmost in precious food values.

Weaning exercise. Spillage will be reduced in those first cup tries if you start with just a splash of milk. As baby's hand-to-mouth co-ordination improves you can increase amount of milk.

New Meat-Packing Process Satisfys Steak Appetites

A new meat-packing process aims to satisfy steak appetites on a hamburger budget—with low-cost, lean U.S. good grade beef.

Price and other advantages were described by Joe Nash Belack, a Philadelphia meat processor.

Belack said prices per pound will run 40 to 50 cents lower than comparable cuts of U.S. prime beef.

THE NEW TECHNIQUE produces packaged boneless sirloin strip steaks that keep, unopened, for three weeks under ordinary refrigeration, and boneless sirloin roasts that keep six months under the same conditions. Either can be stored for months in a freezer that maintains a temperature of zero degrees or lower.

Cooking time is 2 to 5 minutes for the steaks, about 30 minutes for a family size roast.

The idea is thousands of years old, said Belack. But he declined to give any details of the process beyond adding that it uses no artificial preservatives or tenderizers.

Ordinarily, U.S. good graded meat requires moist cooking or tenderizing before cooking. But these steaks and roasts are, after broiling or roasting, as tender as the more expensive U.S. prime and choice grades, and they compare well for flavor.

UNCOOKED, they look and taste like medium-well roast beef, pink and juicy, and may be eaten that way, if desired. A small amount of reddish liquid in the package provides a salty enough flavor for most tastes.

"Once cooked," said Belack, "they have the same keeping qualities as any other meat leftovers."

Each steak and roast is sealed individually in heavy plastic with the expiration date heat-stamped into one edge.

The steaks require an extremely high broiling temperature and close proximity to the heat source. Thin steaks can be pan-broiled in a lightly-greased, hot, heavy skillet or griddle. Roasts require a pre-heated moderate oven.

REGARDLESS OF cooking method, the degree of doneness will range from medium well (pinkish) to well done (brown throughout). Belack estimated that 80 per cent of American consumers prefer beef medium well. The process does not permit blood-rare cooking.

Belack added that retail distribution of the present line of steaks, roasts, and corned and spiced beef is expected to spread throughout the country within the next three months, beginning in the Great Lakes and northeastern states. (UPI)

DAILY Independent-Journal Est. 1861
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

16 EDITORIAL PAGE Tuesday, June 11, 1963 San Rafael, Calif.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Something In Yesterday's I-J You Shouldn't Miss

We want to call your attention to something that appeared in yesterday's Independent-Journal, particularly you readers who live in and around San Rafael.

We refer to Page 28 of yesterday's paper, the last page in the second section. It was a full page advertisement, but an advertisement a little different than you will usually see.

The ad detailed the summer recreation program which the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department is sponsoring in cooperation with the San Rafael School Districts' summer recreation program.

Listed out in an easy-to-read style are about 30 categories of recreational opportunities, varying all the way from pre-school programs to adult swim instruction and adult-teen sports. There is a category for history and nature, another of music for fun, another basketball, and still another ballet and tap.

These are just some samples of the categories available and as titles only indicate the numerous opportunities for children, youth and adults in this big program.

The full page ad was purchased by the Recreation and Park Department with the co-sponsorship of 11 business organizations. Some of these are not even San Rafael businesses. But they felt so interested in providing such recreation that they decided to participate financially in seeing that notification of it reaches every household it could in the county.

We also want to say something about preparation of the advertisement. It is designed to be torn out of the paper and kept, because it refers not only to programs starting this or next week, but tells what's going to be happening in July or August as well.

It's nicely designed, easy to read and so attractive it can be tacked on the family's bulletin board.

That's where it should go.

It's Funtime In Novato Now As Festival Unites Community

The eyes of fun-loving Marinites will turn to Novato this week as the city celebrates its eighth annual Western Weekend.

This celebration has grown over the years until it is the largest community celebration in the county, and one of the largest in the North Bay area.

Although this is officially the eighth annual Western Weekend, the celebration is much older. It had its beginnings when the Novato Horsemen used to parade down Grant Avenue en route to their arena on Bugeia Lane.

From these humble beginnings, the celebration grew and grew until today, nearly every organization in the city is involved. It has grown until it is a paying proposition, putting money into the pockets of the participating organizations and the Western Weekend fund. The celebration now pays its own way, but for several years it went into the red.

IT'S GOOD for any community to have such a celebration during the year. It gives friends and neighbors a chance to mingle and have fun together. It is one of the best things we know of to tie a community together.

No tribute to Western Weekend would be complete without paying tribute to the two sponsoring organizations, the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce and Novato Horsemen's Assn. The Novato Horsemen started the celebration with a parade and horse show. They kept it going for many years until the chamber of commerce stepped in one year. Then the junior chamber of commerce took it on as a community project. These young men of the Jaycees deserve a pat on the back for their work in keeping the celebration going.

It has not been an easy proposition. The formula for the celebration has been changed year after year. Many things have been tried and dropped, and others added to the celebration.

Each year it seems to be bigger and better than the previous one. The many organizations now participating make it truly a community effort.

THE TWO ORIGINAL parts of the celebration remain the biggest drawing cards today: the rodeo and parade. Last year a crowd estimated at more than 20,000 watched the parade. An even larger one is expected this year. The rodeo arena was filled to capacity last year long before the rodeo started. Almost one-third of those coming for the rodeo were turned away.

The melodrama and crowning of the queen filled the Community House to capacity. The breakfast and chicken barbecue each drew large crowds. The booths, which were run by local organizations for the first time, made a profit for those groups.

All in all, the celebration has been a success and gives promise of continuing to be one. It's the one weekend when Novato plays host to the area. Everyone is welcome to the fun.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

Just before he performed a difficult operation, a well-known doctor paused to say a brief prayer.

Afterwards, a visiting friend of his told him he was surprised that he had done this. "I thought a surgeon relied solely on his ability," he said to him.

"A surgeon is only human," came the reply. "He cannot work miracles by himself. I am certain science could not have advanced as far as it has were it not for something far stronger than mere man."

Then he explained: "I feel so close to God when I am operating that I don't know where my skill leaves off and His begins."

The more you realize you are in the divine Presence at all times, the more likely you are to turn to the Lord for guidance and strength, as well as give of your best to the task before you.

True dependence on God will stimulate you to develop and put to practical use the talents He has entrusted to you. You will be more apt to pray as if all depended on God and act as if all depended on yourself.

"How could a thing remain unless You willed it; or be preserved, had it not been called forth by You?" (Wisdom 11:25)

Innate Right To Choose Friends

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Regarding Al Bock's remarks in his column Friday, May 31, about the recent decision of the Marin Board of Supervisors to set up a new "Committee on Racial Discrimination," I was, to put it mildly, amazed at Mr. Bock's stating, in effect, that if any of the citizens of the United States have any "notion that a fair housing law would deprive somebody of the 'right' to choose neighbors," that "notion" is (in Mr. Bock's words), "like saying laws making murder illegal deprive somebody of the 'right' to dispose altogether of irksome individuals."

Isn't this going pretty far out, to be called in effect a murderer if one chooses to have such a "notion"?

May I remark that there is something wrong with your editorial staff in allowing such irresponsible and improper reporting as this, and that such statements on the part of one of your reporters tends to harm, more than advance, the cause which he espouses, thus defeating his purpose?

Mr. Bock is evidently attempting to climb on the bandwagon. In the endless talk about Negro "rights," isn't there another side to the question and isn't the point of view of that side completely overlooked in the present desire of cynical, hypocritical politicians and others to get on this bandwagon; the point of view of the citizen who believes that he still should have the "right" to choose his own social contacts, and live in the neighborhood of his own choice; and that the government should not tell him whom she shall choose for friends, or what environment he shall live in?

Are not such views an innate right, not to be controlled by government? And should such choice be called synonymous with murder?

No institution of government, federal or local, has the right to legislate against individual preferences; it would be futile to try. It is not a question of making Negroes socially "equal" by law. The Negroes individually and collectively must earn this for themselves, just as all other minority people have always had to do.

To try to do this by a law would be as oppressive agaianst the majority as any law against a minority. Somewhere in the middle must be the answer, with the "notion" still valid that one may choose where and with whom he desires to live.

Was Editorial A Trial Balloon?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

One is led to wonder whether the June 3 lead editorial on the recent Bodega Head balloon demonstration was not itself a balloon, a trial balloon, perhaps, to provoke a response from the readers on the Bodega Head controversy, or on the debatable need for fallout shelters, or merely to determine if anyone reads the editorial page?

Otherwise it is a little difficult to account for. Surely, we cannot seriously accept the argument that the Bodega Head project justifies shelters. A corollary to this proposition is that the Pacific Gas & Electric Company should provide the shelters, a most unlikely occurrence.

Regardless of how one feels about either the Bodega Head project or the need for fallout shelters, the connection between them is rather difficult to maintain, or are you admitting by indirection that the Bodega Head hazards are significant?

St. Vincent's Golf Tourney A Success

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On May 14 the Godfathers Club of St. Vincent's School for Boys at San Rafael conducted a very successful and enjoyable tournament at Harding Golf Course in San Francisco.

Due to a good weather "break" we played well over 200, and had 268 guests at the Award Dinner. The net profit to the school was $3,195.96. The only expenses incurred were for the dinner and green fees.

The entire profit will be devoted to the care of our 241 boys.

I wish to acknowledge your gift of two American flags which were awarded as a prize to two of the contestants, and to express my sincere gratitude for your generosity.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Kennedy Set For U.S. Air, Water Test Ban

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is ready to announce a unilateral ban on nuclear weapons tests in the air and underwater, if and when the Senate approves the resolution sponsored by 34 senators calling for such action.

The President's proclamation, that would make the existing unofficial unilateral test ban official, would leave the U.S. free to continue underground testing.

This unannounced plan was made known by the President to Senators Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Thomas Dodd (D-Conn.), who forged the resolution urging him to offer Russia a treaty banning aerial and underwater tests.

AT A WHITE HOUSE meeting, the President told the two senators his proclamation would follow exactly the lines of their resolution, under which the U.S. could immeditely resume all types of testing if the Russians broke the ban—as they have done in the past.

As discussed by the President, he envisions the contemplated test ban proclamation as a means of circumventing the major stumbling block to an agreement at Geneva—the dispute over inspection of underground tests. Also as giving the administration a potent argument to induce the Soviet to take similar unilateral action.

In the President's opinion, one of the principal uses of the proposed proclamation would be to mobilize world sentiment against another round of Russian nuclear tests expected later this year.

THE PRESIDENT asked Senators Humphrey and Dodd to go to Geneva in a few weeks to present their plan for a limited test treaty as a stopgap measure. They would do this as special U.S. emissaries.

The two senators agreed to the President's request.

Despite its 34 backers, the Dodd-Humphrey resolution faces stiff opposition in the Senate.

This is significantly indicated by the fact that not a single member of the powerful Senate Armed Services Committee and the Joint Atomic Committee signed the resolution. Dodd and Humphrey made strenuous efforts to get signers, but without success.

Members of these two committees, led by Senators Richard Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Henry Jackson (D-Wash.), ranking member of the Joint Atomic Committee, and John Stennis (D-Miss.), head of the Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee, will spearhead the fight against the resolution when it reaches the Senate floor.

THE RESOLUTION is before the Foreign Relations Committee, which is slated to start considering it shortly.

Senators Russell, Jackson and Stennis are urging colleagues to study secret testimony heard last week by the Senate Investigating Subcommittee revealing that not all atmospheric nuclear tests can be detected, as has long been believed.

This startling disclosure, exactly the opposite of information given out by administration officials, came from Pentagon and intelligence experts.

It is based on analyses of U.S. and Soviet atmospheric tests which are known to have taken place last winter but were not detected at the time.

White House Thinks Criticism Of Bowles Talk Here 'Unjustified'

By CHAPIN A. DAY

I have been informed by the White House that I was "unjustified" in my criticism of the closed meeting in Ross at which Chester Bowles, new ambassador to India was the speaker. I have just received the following letter on White House stationery:

'CHIP' DAY

"Dear Mr. Day:

"Your letter to the President of May 24 has been referred to my attention.

"It is of course outside the purview of the White House to control the press arrangements at a private party 3,000 miles away. It is my understanding from Mr. (Roger) Kent, however, that you were given the option of coming to the party on an off-the-record basis.

"Mr. Bowles, who gives scores of speeches and scores of press conferences, has been one of the Administration's most accessible officials. I think your criticism in this case is unjustified."

Sincerely yours,

PIERRE SALINGER
Press Secretary to the President

Just to keep the record straight, I want it understood I was invited not just once, but three times to attend that party on the record. The "option of coming to the party on an off-the-record basis" was given me at the door as I was being turned away.

MARIN'S CONGRESSMAN Don H. Clausen flew back to Colorado Springs, Colo., with a group of Marinities to argue with military authorities for a civilian runway to be constructed parallel to the military runway at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Clausen thinks that a Marin airport capable of handling private industrial and business planes, is an absolute must. He thinks the parallel runway idea is ideal not only for now but for the not too distant future when Hamilton may be abandoned by the military.

But he has no idea of abandoning the Marin County airport at Novato.

Clausen's argument is that ideally both of them are needed. Novato, improved, should still remain, he argues for the real light planes. The Hamilton civilian runway should be for heavier private planes and possibly, eventually, commercial planes.

He's probably right. We'll need them all before we get through growing.

Martha Raye was dining in Chicago's Pump Room one evening when a waiter hustled by with a serving of shish-kebab (lamb held aloft on a flaming sword—a specialty of the house). "What the heck is that?" inquired Miss Raye. Jimmy Durante, sitting next to her, explained, "A customer who left only a $10 tip."

In a fascinating book called "The Fine Art of Literary Mayhem," Myrick Land describes a variety of bitter feuds and vendettas in which world-famous authors climbed down from their ivory towers and exchanged insults that left everybody concerned gasping for breath.

The great historian, Thomas Carlyle, for instance, dismissed none other than Ralph Waldo Emerson as a "Hoary-headed and toothless baboon." Henry James, rallying to Emerson's defense, deprecated Carlyle as "that same old sausage, fizzing and sputtering in his own grease." Most vitriolic of all was George Bernard Shaw, ready always to take on all comers. He once infuriated Henry Arthur Jones, reigning London playwright of his day, with such a string of insults that Jones counter-attacked Shaw in a public letter beginning, "The Nag Sedition was your mother and Perversity begot you; Mischief was your midwife, and Misrule your nurse!"

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Thirty-five workmen dug from both ends of a tunnel near the high trestle at Belveron Gardens on the Tiburon Peninsula to clear a cave-in which occurred when six lumber-loaded freight cars jumped the tracks. Meanwhile the Tiburon line was closed with traffic re-routed at Schellville, Sonoma County.

Reluctantly, according to chairman Georgia Wintringham, the San Rafael Tree Committee consented to removal of five elm trees from in front of the postoffice where their roots were breaking D Street sidewalk.

20 YEARS AGO

Marin County was advised that on a basis of its population of 52,907 it would receive $23,102 as its share of state vehicle license fees. Formerly the money was collected by cities and counties as personal property tax.

Flood conditions which have afflicted county property east of San Rafael "were not due to breaks in bay levees but rather to runoff from the hills," declared Supervisor William D. Fusselman in countering a request that the county join with the city in rebuilding levees on city property.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Provide Against Bad Trump Break When Playing Bridge

It's often sound policy to draw two rounds of trumps and then run your side suit. This line of play doesn't work, however, when you run into a bad trump break.

Both the Italians and the Americans got to four spades on this hand in the 1962 world championships at Buenos Aires. At both tables, East took the first trick with the queen of hearts and continued with the ace, forcing South to ruff.

ITALIAN DECLARER

The Italian declarer, Massimo D'Alelio, thought it was safe to lead out the ace and king of spades. He was wrong.

D'Aleilio had to switch to clubs when the trumps broke badly. East ruffed the third club, drew South's last trump with the queen, and then went back to hearts.

The hand fell apart, and South was down three.

SAFER PLAN

The American declarer, Howard Schenken, found a safer plan. After ruffing the second heart, Schenken led out one top trump, led a club to dummy, and returned a trump to finesse with the jack.

When the trumps failed to break Schenken switched to clubs. East ruffed the third club and led a third round of hearts. Schenken discarded a diamond, and that was all for the defense.

If East led another heart, dummy could ruff and then a trump to the king would let South make the rest of the tricks.

SCHENKEN PLAN

Schenken's plan would work even if he lost the jack of spades to the queen. Presumably the opponents would lead another heart, and Schenken would ruff with the king of spades.

He would lead another club to dummy to return a trump, giving up a trick to the 10 of spades.

But then dummy's last trump would control the situation, and dummy's last club would furnish an entry to South for the rest of the clubs.

The Italian declarer failed to make sure of an eventual entry to his long clubs.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Twins With One Umbilical Cord Are In For Some Troubled Times

VAN DELLEN

The umbilical cord is our first lifeline, and, if it is defective in some way, the fetus may die long before birth. For example, infants with only one rather than two umbilical arteries may fail to make it or, if they live, have a greater incidence of malformations. Fetal life also is endangered by knots in the umbilical cord. Little can be done about these abnormalities.

Changes in the placenta also affect the course of pregnancy. One of the most unusual examples of this complication occurs in identical twins when there is an anomaly of the blood vessels of the placenta. As a result, one child gets more blood than the other.

BUT THE FETUS that gets the lion's share does not fare as well as his mate. He ends up with too much blood, which causes the skin to become reddish-blue. In addition, the bag of waters that surrounds the infant is so distended with fluid, premature delivery is to be expected. His twin is smaller, pale because of anemia, and frequently comes into the world in a state of shock; the sac is likely to contain little fluid.

Most of these twins fail to survive because too much or too little blood places great stress on the heart and kidneys. These infants also are more susceptible to pneumonia and other lung disorders.

THE SMALLER, anemic baby usually does better than the other because anemia is less of a drawback than an oversupply of blood, which enlarges the heart and raises the blood pressure.

In one set of twins with this syndrome, the anemic infant was given iron and was well enough to be discharged from the hospital with the mother at five days of age. The other infant had to remain in the nursery 12 days, to be bled until the count was normal. These babies did well because otherwise they were healthy.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NIGHT SWEATS

W. L. writes: I'm 76 years old and when I awaken at night, my head and chest are wet with sweat. Could high blood pressure make me this warm?

REPLY

Yes, but other causes include fever, tumors, drugs, alcohol, or total relaxation. I assume the room is not too hot and you don't have too many covers on the bed.

THYROID AND CHOLESTEROL

M. S. writes: Does taking thyroid pills lower the amount of cholesterol in the body?

REPLY

Yes, but this medication should not be taken except under the watchful eye of a physician. Diet is the best way to lower the cholesterol level, unless it is caused by a sluggish thyroid gland.

IMMUNITY TO PENICILLIN

J. R. writes: If you take penicillin too often, will you become immune to it?

REPLY

No, but you may become allergic or sensitive to the antibiotic. On the other hand, the germs may become immune to it. One big problem associated with antibiotics is that we are developing drug resistent strains of bacteria.

BLACKOUTS IN OLDSTERS

W. C. writes: Could hardening of the arteries of the brain cause blackouts in an elderly man?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the vessels are too narrow to deliver a normal supply of blood.

It Hasn't Always Been Easy Thing For Cardinals To Agree On Pope

By RAY MOSELEY

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The cardinals had met two years and nine months without being able to agree on a new pope. The people were getting impatient.

Finally, they ripped the roof off the palace, and rain dropped on the cardinals. Three of them almost died before 18 shivering and soggy princes of the church quickly proceeded to the election of Gregory X, ending the longest conclave in history.

This happened in 1272, in the central Italian town of Viterbo where the papal court was then located.

In the middle ages, conclaves sometimes were hair-rising affairs. Cardinals were kidnaped, fire broke out, cardinals were starved into making decisions.

When Gregory X was elected, he drew up a rule providing that the food served to cardinals should be reduced drastically if they failed to reach agreement after three days. If they went as long as five days with no decision, they were to be put on bread and water.

The rule was not invoked until 1305, when a conclave met at Peruga and went on considerably longer than five days. The conclave actually was starting its 11th month of deliberations when the food supply was reduced. Then the townspeople, acting on the example set at Viterbo, ripped the roof off the palace.

The cardinals finally elected Clement V on June 5, 1305.

One of the most hectic conclaves was that which elected Martin IV at Viterbo in 1281. The townspeople, supporters of the Colonna family which gave several popes to the church, broke into the conclave and kidnaped two cardinals of the rival Orsini family.

At the conclave of 1314 at Carpentras, France, which took just over 25 months to elect Pope John XXII, fire broke out in the hall and the cardinals had to flee through a small opening.

This was the second longest conclave of all time.

One of the most traveled conclaves was that of 1292, which moved all around Italy before finally electing Celestine V.

It opened in Rome's Santa Maria Maggiore Church, moved to Santa Sabina and later settled down in Santa Maria Sopra Minerva.

But then an epidemic threatened Rome and the 12 cardinals traveled to the healthy country towns of Rieti and Anagni before finally coming back to Rome to complete the election.

Pope Leo X underwent surgery during the conclave of 1513 which elected him. The 25 cardinals in that gathering were put on reduced rations after they failed to end their work in three days.

The 39 cardinals who elected Hadrian VI of Holland in 1522 were booed and jeered by the Roman people, who objected to having a non-Italian pope. There has not been a non-Italian since.

Ten cardinals came down with malaria during the conclave of 1623 which elected Urban VII.

Fraud in the elections was not uncommon at one time. Julius II, the great Renaissance warrior pope, bought his election in 1503. He later promulgated severe rules aimed at stopping the practice of buying election.

In 1559 Farrante Torres, the valet of Spanish Cardinal Bartolomeo Della Cueva, went around to 32 of the 44 cardinals individually and asked each one to vote for Della Cueva on the first ballot just so he would get the honor of having one vote.

Each of the 32 cardinals promised, thinking that his vote would be the only one to go to Della Cueva.

The trick almost succeeded, but Cardinal Capo Di Ferro learned that three of his neighbors intended to vote for the Spaniard. Then he started an investigation and exposed the plot.

The valet attending Girolamo Cardinal Simoncelli in 1590 was even more diabolical. He invented the famed prophecies on the future popes commonly known as the prophecies of Saint Malachy.

Simoncelli was from Orvieto, known as "urbs vetus" (old city).

The valet drew up the prophecies so that the one pertaining to that conclave was "de antiquitate urbis" (from the ancient city). He hoped thereby to influence the election, but the attempt failed.

The "prophecies of Saint Malachy" are still spoken of, however.

According to the prophecies, the next pope will be "flos florum" (flower of flowers). One Italian newspaper has pointed out this week that Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan and the man most often mentioned in speculation about Pope John's successor, has three fleurs-de-lis (flowers of the lily) in his coat of arms. But several other cardinals also have folwers in their coats of arms.

General Fund On Tap For School Board

A special meeting of the Marin County Board of Education will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Civic Center to discuss proposed general fund budgets of nearly $264,000.

The proposed budgets include $79,400 of county contributions toward additions to Marindale School for handicapped children and a new school for deaf children.

The board of supervisors will review the budget proposals tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Establishment of procedures for appointment of board members will also be discussed by the board of education. Questions of policy in appointing replacmeents arose last week when Walter L. Johnson of Loma Verde resigned.

Trustees To Assess Measures Defeated In Larkspur Vote

Effects of the defeat of two fund-raising measures will be discussed by the Larkspur school district board at 7:30 p.m. today in district headquarters in Larkspur, Supt. Milton S. Cohen announced today.

A proposed 85-cent tax rate increase and a proposed $700,000 bond issue were defeated last week.

A fiscal 1964 budget will be submitted. Its total figure has not been determined in the light of the election defeat. Financial coordinator Gilbert Slusher expects it to be under the current budget of around $890,000.

Salary schedules for teaching and non-teaching personnel will be discussed. Cohen said he expects proposed raises to be wiped out or slashed.

It's Season For Stings—Sometimes They're Fatal

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Somehow a man who had just been bitten by a paper wasp knew it no ordinary sting. He began yelling, "I am going to die!... I am going to die!" He did, within 15 minutes.

To Dr. William F. McCormick this was dramatic proof of "cross-sensitization" in human beings to the venoms of different insects. This man had been "sensitized" years before by the sting of a honey bee, not by that of a wasp. But wasp venom utilized the "sensitization" to kill him.

The moral of McCormick's scientific findings was that any person who has ever had a bad reaction from the sting of an insect should not only avoid being stung again by that kind of insect but also preserve himself from the fangs of insects of the same order.

The order is that of hymenoptera which is an extremely large one, with some 70,000 species through the world. The important ones for Americans now enjoying the outdoors are honey bees, bumble bees, and all wasps, including hornets and yellow jackets.

Fortunately, relatively few persons are chemically capable of being "sensitized" by any insect bite. Most people merely have a stab of pain accompanied by a rising of the skin where the fangs went in. But for the few who have been "sensitized" the venom of a stinging insect can be as potent as rattlesnake venom, drop for drop.

McCormick is assistant professor of pathology of the University of Tennessee in Memphis. After his experience with the man who knew he was going to die the instant he was stung, McCormick combed the extensive but scattered scientific literature. It was the first time it had been brought together.

The man died of the massive allegric reaction called "anaphylactic shock." An autopsy examination, with microscope, failed to reveal body injuries capable of producing death, although the internal organs were severely congested. Even the site of the bite couldn't be found.

McCormick found that in one five-year period 215 persons were killed by animals and insects in the United States and members of the hymenoptera order accounted for 86, or 40 per cent. These insects killed more people than snakes.

Science's knowledge of the chemical natures and sensitizing potentials of all the insect venoms is far from complex. However, the indications are that a person sensitized by yellow jacket venom can be put into shock by venom from the hornet, the wasp or the honey bee.

A curious indication is that the venom of the bumble bee won't set off a yellow jacket "sensitization," but it would arouse shock in a person sensitized by honey bee venom. On the other hand, McCormick found evidence that all these venoms have ingredients in common and "cross-sensitization" is possible for all of them.

Persons sensitized to insect venom know it because they have had at least one bad reaction from a sting. Doctors often equip these persons with pockets kits containing a drug for emergency use in case of a new encounter with a stinger.

Hills Apartments On Hub's Agenda

A planned development apartment project for 65 units at the end of Sonoma Avenue will be up for decision by the San Anselmo city council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The apartments are planned on four acres of wooded hills above the American Legion Log Cabin and Monterey Avenue homes. The area is already zoned for apartments, but the developers are seeking planned community zoning.

Two weeks ago, the council chamber was packed with residents who opposed the apartment project on grounds it would cause traffic congestion on Sonoma Avenue and Sir Francis Drake and possible slides behind homes on Monterey Avenue.

Other items on tonight's agenda include the following:

Appeal by Mrs. Hildred Huyssoon against planning commission denial of variances to build a six-story building on San Anselmo Avenue where Lee Busolo's service station was formerly located; public hearing on a change of zone from duplex to apartments on the William Pollard property at 200 Redhill Avenue; request by White Furniture Co. to change curb openings at the Hub, and passage of a new electrical code to bring regulations up to date.

Very Little New Coming In Autos, But Larger Compacts Are Planned

There will be little change in 1964 model cars, according to UPI automotive editor James Stickford who has had his eyes and ears close to the production lines.

One trend seems to be in larger compacts. Buick-Pontiac-Oldsmobile economy models increase from 112 to 115 inches in wheelbase, competing with Ford's Fairlane. Chevrolet has a new entry in this class, probably to be called the Chevelle, and plans to carry only two series of Chevy II. Other G.M. changes will be mainly in ornamentation though some new transmissions are reported, and Pontiac will drop its four-cylinder engine in favor of sixes and eights.

Ford will restyle its entire line, mostly in Thunderbird and Galaxie. A metal-bodied sports Falcon will compete with Corvair's Monza. Lincoln-Mercury Division anticipates little difference except to lengthen the Continental. There is also some talk about dropping the Meteor.

Rambler Classic and Ambassador will be unchanged, but AMC plans to lengthen the American's wheelbase from 100 to 106 inches and make it look even bigger. Studebaker will modify its latest Lark and Hawk models but not the Avanti.

Big news at Chrysler is the turbine car introduced last month. The company will build 50 models and distribute them to motorists for testing. A newly styled Imperial is on the boards; other Chrysler models will have a face lift. Not many changes in Dodge or Plymouth are suggested.

Lucot

EARNEST C. LUCOT of San Rafael celebrated his 40th anniversary with Wells Fargo Bank last Friday. He is vice president in the commercial loan department at the bank's San Francisco headquarters. A native Californian, Lucot was named assistant cashier in 1943, promoted to assistant vice president in 1953 and made vice president two years ago.

KENNETH HOWARD, assistant vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., was elected second vice president of the San Francisco chapter of American Savings and Loan Institute at its annual graduation ceremony and dinner last Thursday honoring 362 savings and loan employees. We understand Gerald Purcell of Northwestern Saving's loan department was supposed to have been among them—but couldn't make it. (Uncle Sam nabbed him for six months duty and upset the schedule).

GORDON WALKER of Cal-Wide, Inc., Ignacio has announced the incorporation of Snack World, Inc., the company which will handle the snack bar and food operation in the Value World discount store of Lee Bros. in the Larkspur Plaza when it opens. He is associated with Robert Williams, San Francisco restaurateur and Ignacio resident, in the project.

The two will also handle similar operations in Value World stores in other areas when they are built.

Georgia Graduate

Thomas E. Winter of 301 Locust Avenue, San Rafael, was awarded a master's degree in industrial management at Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta Saturday.

'I'm Not Retiring,' Teacher Says

SCHOOL (TEACHING) IS FUN — Marion Cain, who winds up her teaching career at Kent School this week, gets into the act with two 6-year-old youngsters appearing in school music festival — Robbie Setrakian (with baton), and Paul Albritton. Miss Cain won't be teaching next fall, but neither does she plan retirement. "Never!" she says. (Independent-Journal photo)

By FRED WYATT

Marion Hayes Cain is winding up nine years as a teacher and dramatic director at Adaline E. Kent School, but don't say "retire" to her.

"I'm not retiring, Not ever!" says the vivacious Mrs. Cain.

"I'm just changing my plans, moving from the classroom to a broader community activity. I intend to work throughout the county with an enterprise I'll call 'The Magic Circle'—as a teacher in creative work for children, teen-agers and adults.

"And I'll teach at the Terra Linda Community Theater. And I intend to go on writing plays for children—and go on producing."

Her time at Kent School has been only a fraction of her life in teaching and drama up and down California.

Besides her several-phased career, Mrs. Cain has reared three sons from two marriages. She was married to the late pioneer radio newscaster Sam Hayes and later to William Cain, who became a B-29 pilot-instructor in World War II.

She and Hayes met as players in the Tamalpais Mountain Theater, which she now has headed two years. She and Cain, a student of opera, met as players with the Ojai Valley Art Center.

Her eldest son, Ronald Hayes, has the lead in the television series "Everglades." Bob Cain, 19, Sir Francis Drake High School graduate and former College of Marin student, is about to begin a period in the Army. Tim Cain, 16, won a Sir Francis Drake High School music scholarship and plays tenor sax in the Triods, a six-piece dance band.

Mrs. Cain was born in San Francisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Brune. Her father kept books for Schmidt Lithograph Co. 64 years.

She was schooled in San Francisco, majoring in speech and drama at what is now San Francisco State College.

Then came three years of teaching first grade at Kate Kennedy and Farragut schools in San Francisco. Then as Mrs. Hayes, she lived in Hollywood where her husband broadcast nightly as the "Richfield Reporter."

Later she taught first grade and directed drama and glee club for one and one half years "at the little Novato School under principal Lu Sutton." She joined the Ross Valley Players.

For one year she taught second and third grades and directed creative drama at Ross School, then for two years taught at the Presidio School, a private San Francisco school.

"Then I branched out for myself and moved to Sausalito where for three years in my studio, 'The Magic Box,' I taught drama to children. I produced and wrote children's plays. The late Ed Day, San Rafael High School art department head, was my art director and did my sets," she relates.

For three years she directed recreation and creative work for children and teen-agers at Mission Community Center, San Francisco. After her time in Ojai she returned to Marin in 1948 as director of the Marin Junior Theater.

In 1949 she began a year as eighth grade teacher at Kent School.

"Then three years as drama director for the college, high school and lower school of Dominican Convent. After that two years of teaching second grade at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo. Then in 1954 I started in this job here at Kent."

She has been director of the Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae unit of the Marin Junior Theater at the Marin Art and Garden Center for 11 years, an activity she continues. She is still a director of the Ross Valley Players.

Both the children and Kent Parent-Teacher Assn. have honored her for her long and varied service. She is wistful over leaving her duties in Room 7, a chamber full of colorful dramatic sets. But she is compelled to be on the move, "to branch out."

Retire? Not Mrs. Cain. "Not ever!"

Grand Opening Set Sunday For Added Woodacre Club

Grand opening ceremonies for the $42,000 expansion project of the Woodacre Improvement Club are scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday at the clubhouse, 1 Garden Way, Woodacre.

Ground was broken on the construction program in March. A 30-by-60-foot pool, replacing an oval pool, and two tennis courts and a Pony League ball park have been completed. Also, paved parking areas, volleyball and basketball courts have been added.

Following the ceremonies, the barbecue pits will be fired up in the new barbecue area, also part of the new construction, and those attending will be invited to picnic at the 4.6 acre club site. The pool will be open to the public for the opening day only.

Choir Singer Loses Money, Credit Cards

Mrs. Margaret Foss of 528 Bret Hart Road, San Rafael, sang as usual Sunday morning in the choir of St. Paul's Church at Court Street and Mission Avenue.

But she left her purse in the choir room unattended. When she returned afterward, she told San Rafael police, $6 and various credit cards and identification papers had been removed.

Road Improvement Project Is Due Novato Council

Specifications for the Center Road improvement project are to be presented to the Novato City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community house by Charles Joseph, director of public works.

The council will set a date for public hearing on establishing an assessment district to finance the work.

The council will also call for bids on bonds on the San Jose Boulevard assessment district.

Other items to come before the council include coordination of municipal agencies, the weed control program, and schedule of budget study sessions.

One out of every 100 Greeks is convicted each year for minor crimes, mostly non-payment of debt.

Tam's Yearbook Is Distributed

The 1963 Pai, Tamalpais High School yearbook, is dedicated to Mrs. Kathryn Smith, English and psychology teacher at the high school in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Martin was yearbook adviser for many years, ending that assignment last year.

The new yearbook was distributed today.

NOVATO

GIVE 'IM PLENTY OF ROOM

The look on the face of this steer at last year's Novato rodeo shows why nobody's contesting his way as he trots from arena into exit chute. That look is more impressive to a cowboy who has just been bucked off and sees the steer coming at him, head down—a thing that happens sometimes to the best of 'em in the rip-roaring Western Weekend rodeo.

Novato's History Dates Back To Old Land Grant

The history of Novato starts with the granting of the Rancho Novato land grant to Fernando Feliz by the Mexican governor Juan Alvarado. This land grant was sold by Feliz to Francis C. De Long, who with his partner, Joseph B. Sweetzer, owned the Novato Land Co.

Vineyards were planted in the basin that now holds the city. De Long's vinegar plant soon grew to be the largest in California. Later the company turned to dairy cattle. To dispose of the milk, a cheese factory was formed. The Novato cheese gained a wide reputation for its excellence.

The large land holding was divided into small acreages, which were sold to Italian and Portuguese immigrants.

The community of Novato started in two separate locations. De Long laid out one section adjacent to the railroad when it came through in 1892. Sweetzer started the other townsite around his home,

12 Girls Vying For Queen Of Novato's West Weekend

No celebration is complete without a queen to reign over it, and Western Weekend is no exception.

This year, 12 lovely girls are vying for queen of the three-day event.

The queen and her two princesses will reign over the event. The queen and two runner-ups will be chosen Friday night at the Community House.

They will ride in the parade Saturday morning and be present at all Western Weekend events, climaxed by the rodeo Sunday afternoon.

The Queen Contest is sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce and handled by the Jaycee Auxiliary, the Novato Jaycettes. Mrs. Loretta Fry and Mrs. Joanne Johnson are co-chairmen for the contest.

In addition to attending all of the events of the celebration, the queen and her two princesses will receive many gifts from the Novato merchants.

To be eligible for Queen of the Western Weekend, a girl must never have been married and be a resident of the greater Novato area. The girls have been coached by professionals on poise, walking, correct posture and other attributes needed for the contest.

Judging for the queen will be done by a panel of three men and two women whose identity has been kept secret by the chairmen of the event. This is so that they will not be approached by the contestants or their friends," Mrs. Fry said.

The girls will be shown in bathing suits at the beginning of the evening's entertainment at the Community House. The Novato High School Pep Band will furnish music during the showing and judging.

After that the melodrama, "Bertha, the Bartender's Beautiful Baby," will be given by the Novato Community Club.

As a climax of the evening, the queen will be crowned.

This year's queen contestants are: Marie Elena Ross, 18, San Rafael High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Ross of 145 Shevelin Road; Billie Waldrop, 16, Novato High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Waldrop of 8 Yukon Place; Catherine McBeath, 17, Novato High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McBeath of 1408 Buchanan; Karen Wharf, 17, Novato High School,

INDIA WAS NEVER LIKE THIS

The mean Brahma bulls that provide thills and spills at U.S. rodeos are a breed originating in India. But there the bull is a sacred animal, and who'd think of sticking spurs into him as this rider is doing? Wishing he were home where the Ganges flows, bull does his darnedest to unseat that pesky rider. Approaching with broom—to help the rider escape in case the bull is successful—is Rodeo clown Bobby Clark.

which was recently torn down.

Early growth of the community was slow. The main business was suppling the surrounding farms and ranches with feed and implements. Today feed mills and a burlap bag factory are among the largest employers in the city.

The business district grew from the railroad station toward Highway 101 when the highway was put through the area. However, the community remained basically rural, devoted to supplying the farms.

Modern Novato can trace its start to 1930 when Rep. Florence B. Kahn of San Francisco introduced a bill in Congress to establish Hamilton Field.

The base was named after First Lt. Lloyd Andrews Hamilton, who was killed in a combat mission over enemy territory in Belgium in World War I.

Many service men were stationed at Hamilton during World War II. After the war, the men returned to Novato, which they had liked because of the location and climate.

This boom continues today with Novato being a mixture of the old Portuguese and Italian families, retired military personnel, and those stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base. It is also a "bedroom" community for San Francisco.

With the community bursting at the seams with new growth, people wanted to incorporate a city to improve police protection and other services for which they were dependent on Marin County government in San Rafael.

On Jan. 12, 1960, voters approved incorpation of the City of Novato. It became the 10th city to incorporate in Marin County and the second in size.

At the time of incorporation, Novato boasted 17,000 people. With the added growth since then, the estimate has gone to 25,000.

With the huge subdivisions of San Marin, Bahia Del Norte and Bel Marin Keys in and around the city, and with many smaller subdivisions all being built, the Greater Novato area looks forward to becoming the industrial and population giant of Marin County.

IT'S JUST NO USE KICKING

Futile effort is put forth by Brahma bull as he lashes out with hind hooves for a spur-raking rider who is astride his shoulders. This bit of action was captured at last year's Western Weekend rodeo in Novato. Plenty more of the same is on tap for this year's show.

Moose Get Into Swing For Weekend

The newly organized Novato Moose Lodge is getting into the swing of participation in Western Weekend this year by sponsoring the Saturday night dance at the Novato Community House.

Dancing will start at 9 p.m. with music furnished by Buddy Reynolds and his Western Playboys from San Jose's radio station KEEN.

This is the first year that the Moose Lodge has been organized in Novato and this is their first attempt at helping put on the celebration. However, the members feel that they will be able to attract a more-than-capacity crowd to the dance as in previous years, said Donald W. Lannan, publicity chairman.

Top Cowboys To Appear At Rodeo

Top professional cowboys again will be in action at the Novato Horsemen's Arena off Bugeia Lane Sunday afternoon when the annual rodeo is presented as part of Western Weekend.

The Horsemen's Assn. again this year is offering $600 in prizes which last year attracted top riders from all over the nation.

This is the only rodeo in Marin County which offers such top attractions. It is one of the few in the Bay Area which draw from professional ranks also.

PRIZE MONEY

Last year was the first year that such prize money had been offered by the local rodeo. Because top cowboys are chosen by the total amount of prize money they win during the year, this drew some of the best to Novato.

One of the most important aspects of any rodeo is the stock used. The Horsemen's Assn. has again engaged the Flying U Rodeo stock from Yuba City and Fallon Nev. Cotton Rosser, owner, is one of the nation's best known handler of rodeo stock. He has some world champion stock in this rodeo.

MANY TREATS

Those attending the rodeo will be treated to some of the most spectacular bull riding, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping and steer wrestling that they have ever seen.

With championship stock in the rodeo and some of the nation's top cowboys riding, some world records may be broken.

Always a crowd pleaser is the relay race between members of the Novato Horsemen's Assn. Here the local people get to see those they know in an event. It always draws cheers from the crowds as their local favorites race.

Last year about one-third of the people going to the rodeo were turned away after the 3,000 seats were filled. Joseph Wright, publicity chairman for the Horsemen's Assn. urges those who want to be sure of a seat, to come early. Starting time for the events is 1 p.m.

John Jackson of Woodlake, well known rodeo announcer, again will be on hand to describe the events to the crowd.

The Kiwanis Club is handling the beer concession and the rodeo program. The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce will handle the soft drink and hot dog stands.

In addition a 600-pound steer will be awarded at half time during the rodeo, by the Jaycees.

Well, That's A Reason

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — For three straight years, the tobacco-growing contest at the district 4-H show in Hopkinsville has been won by a girl. Brenda Utley, 15, the 1962 winner, said she doesn't especially care about growing tobacco, but "I like the money you get."

RELAY RACE FEATURES NOVATO HORSE SHOW

Novato's Western Weekend has grown from a horse show started by the Novato Horsemen's Assn., and that is still one of its most popular features. Ever-pleasing is the equine relay race, as this one at last year's show. (Photo by George De Tuncq)

Figures do lie...

...about your age!

A slim figure can make you look years younger than you actually are. And you feel younger, too, with no excess pounds to drag around—no unsightly bulges to limit the kind of clothes you can wear.
If overweight is revealing your age—or adding to it—try a slimdown with refreshing, healthful SLIM. Made from fresh Lucas Valley Grade A milk, SLIM is very low in calories—but high in protein to give you energy and help keep your body muscles firm as you shed unneeded pounds.
Look younger, feel younger. Start your slimdown today with low calorie, high protein SLIM.

Big Parade Is Planned Saturday

Bands, pretty girls, drill teams, horse units, floats and comic entries will all pass in review before the eyes of those attending the Western Weekend Parade on Grant Avenue at 11 a.m. Saturday.

This will be the biggest, longest and best parade of any Western Weekend, said David Douglass, chairman of the event. It is the largest parade in Marin County, he added.

More than 20,000 people lined Grant Avenue from the railroad to Seventh Street to watch the parade last year. A larger crowd than that is expected this year, Douglass said. The route will be the same this year, with the parade disbanding at the Patterson Ranch.

A new wrinkle has been added to the parade this year, Douglass said. Convertibles of yesterday will replace the usual new ones to take the queen and local dignitaries up the parade route.

The vintage automobiles will be entered by the Santa Rosa Horseless Carriage Club. This club has more than 50 members which participate in such events.

"Their presence at the Novato Western Weekend parade is sure to add color to the parade," Douglass stated.

The statistics of this year's parade are impressive. There are 32 categories with first and second prizes being awarded in each. These include $700 in cash plus trophies and ribbons in each.

"Entries have come in from 27 cities as far away as Sacramento, Stockton and the South Bay area," he said.

"For the first time this year, the parade will be judged by professional judges," Douglass stated.

The All-American Assn. of Contest Judges will do most of the parade judging. Professional judges of horsemanship

Weak Spot In Earth's Crust

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—There has always been a weak spot in the earth's crust along Northeast Sicily where volcanic Mount Etna rises 10,000 feet above the Mediterranean.

Prof. Alfredo Rittman, director of the Catania Institute of Vulcanology, says Etna reared up hundreds of thousands of years ago over the cones of a whole series of previous volcanos there.

Part of the cone of the last one before the present Etna can be seen in a lava valley part way down the present mountain slope.

PARADE MARSHAL

Novato resident Jay Alexander—"Marshal J" of television—will be parade marshal of this year's Western Weekend parade. Marshal J has his "spread" in Novato and will ride one of his own fine horses in the procession.

All 25 Booths Will Be Run By Local Organizations

Again this year, as last year, all 25 booths and concessions at the carnival during Novato's Western Weekend Celebration will be run by local organizations.

Last year the booths were operated by local organizations instead of the professional carnival men as in previous years.

"The public response to this change was tremendous," said Alex Sanchez, chairman of the booths and concessions committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event.

This gave the local organizations some of the profit from the carnival, as well as returning a share to the Western Weekend fund, Sanchez said.

The organizations that pioneered the experiment last year all wanted to have a booth again this year, according to Sanchez. Many other groups wanted to participate this year also, he said.

By special arrangement with Carnival Time Shows of Sonoma, the professional booths of the carnival will be leased to the organizations. This gives the carnival a professional touch but also gives parents confidence that children can attend the carnival and receive fair treatment from local people operating the booths, Sanchez said.

Booths and organizations operating them are: Dish Toss, Novato Junior Hornets and Pop Warner League; Jingle Board, Novato Jaycees; Hi-Lo game, Girl Friday Club of Hamilton Air Force Base; Buoy Pitch, Novato Lions; Crazy Ball, Nola; Sambo Tank (Dunk Tank) Petaluma Jaycees; Dart - Balloon Board, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary; Coke Toss, De Molay; Spot Board and Hats, Novato Squares; Add 'Em Up Darts, Villa Anita; Cork Shoot, Young Republicans; Hi-Striker, American Field Service; Salami Throw, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Duck Pond, Sunny Hills Guild No. 2; Cat Throw, Novato Rotary Club; Dime Toss, Novato Moose Lodge; Add 'Em Up Pan, Black Point Improvement Club; Keg Toss, Novat Junior Rifle Club; One Bal TARS (Teen Age Republicans Hot Dogs, Beta Sigma Phi; H Dogs and Hamburger, Pet luma Radio Service Club, an Beer, Novato Kiwanis Club.

Melodrama Planned For Weekend's Fun

"Bertha, the Bartender's Beautiful Baby," will be the melodrama presented during the crowning of the Western Weekend queen at Novato's Community House on Friday night.

The Novato Community Club again is presenting a melodrama in connection with the selection of the queen. Last year this was started when they presented "Virtue Victorious or The Widow's Plight." It proved to be such a success that it has been added as a permanent part of the Western Weekend celebration.

Vivienne Terry stars as Iva Bargain, a "travelin' female saleslady" of the 1900's who sells "unmentionables" to all the town gals, young and old. "Curley" Whisenhunt, plays Hurley Burley, "best known feller in Polecat Center."

Paula Cermak is "Tessie Tremayne," proprietress of the "Aroma Inn", the town's one and only hotel and tavern. Scott Wright portrays "Trafalgar Tremayne," Tessie's husband, who has sold the "Sweet Tooth Candy Kitchen" to try his luck at the tavern business —"Where a man can put by more than $1,000 per year after expenses." Robb Schultz plays Percy Vere the son of Judge Vere, and newly acquired friend of the villain of the play, Rodney Remmington portrayed by William Hints.

Saunde Brown plays Dainty Daisy Dashley who is in town with her traveling thespian group which specializes in "the more serious theater." Connie Craig has the role of Angostura Betters, hired girl employed at the Aroma Inn.

Ernestine Barnwell plays the little girl of the production, Bertha.

Lighting will be handled by Donald Leaf and Eric Kollgaard. Set design and art work was done by Shari Leaf. Set construction was done by Robert Blackwell, William Hints, Curley Whisenhunt and Paul Terry. Costumes were by Roselyn Chaffee. Donnie Tsachche will play appropriate barroom music during the production.

There is a small admission charge.

Executive Time

NEW YORK (UPI)—Top executives of manufacturing concerns spend an average of one-fourth their time in sales and marketing activities, according to a survey by the National Industrial Conference Board. One-third engage in direct selling.

GLENN JOHNSON, general chairman of Novato Western Weekend, poses with smoking six-gun to prove he really is the big shot for the annual frontier celebration. His whiskers were grown for the whiskerino contest. Who's that on his shoulders? Oh, she's just one of the "little people."

Secrets Found In Lake Erie

SANDUSKY, Ohio, (AP)—Lake Erie is yielding secrets to a four-man geological survey team from Ohio's Department of Natural Resourses.

The last glacier 11,000 years ago depressed the land area from Ashtabula, Ohio, to Detroit by 80 feet.

A vessel, believed to be the coal carrier John B. Lyon which sank Sept. 11, 1900, lies partially intact on the bottom four miles north of Conneaut.

Community Celebration For Novato

More than ever before, Western Weekend this year has become a community-wide" celebration in Novato.

Although the two parent organizations, the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Novato Horsemen's Assn. carry a big share of the load of organizing the celebration, more other civic organizations have entered into it this year than ever before.

The Jaycees organize and direct the various events of the observance, and the Novato Horsemen sponsor the climax in the rodeo held each year at the Novato Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane.

A. N. Schwindt and J. N. Cullins of the Novato Horsemen's Assn. are co-chairmen this year of the rodeo. Joseph Wright is the publicity chairman for the event. Last year, more than one third of those going to the rodeo were turned away because of the lack of room on the grounds. Seating capacity at the Horsemen's Assn. Rodeo Arena on Bugeia Lane is 3,000, Wright said.

Jerrold Moore is the general chairman of the Western Weekend for the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Committee chairmen assisting him and their committees are: Tim Dykeman, publicity; David Douglas, parade; Bob Hax, barbecue; Alex Sanchez, booths and concessions; Thomas Stocks, grounds; Charles Martineau store fronts; Glenn Johnson, Fly-in and Beard contest; Bob Robertson, safety committee; James Vanderbeets, special events and Ralph Solvamini, committee-at-large.

Chuckwagon Food Can Be Had At Fete

The romance of eating a barbecue at the famous, authentic Redwood Trail Chuckwagon can be had at the Western Weekend between 1 and 9 p.m. at the Patterson Ranch.

Nick Kobseff of the Rancho Nicasio is preparing the barbecue again this year. Those who had the meal last year will remember the mouth-teasing flavor of barbecued chicken, barbecued beans, salad, rolls, coffee or milk and dessert.

This chuckwagon has followed the trail herds from Baja, Calif., to the Canadian Rockies.

Soviets Working On Oil Field Plan

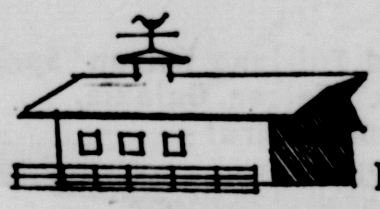
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets say they are designing a fully automatic oil field in which one man will be able to control the operations of 1,000 wells.

According to the Soviet News Agency, Tass, the world's first automated oil field will be completed by the end of 1965.

Tass said all processes of extracting, transporting and refining oil will be automated. The field is located near the town of Leninogorsk in the Tatar Autonomous Republic of central Russia.

HOLIDAY SHOW FOR HOLIDAY CROWD

The Novato Horsemen's Arena is always crowded for the Western Weekend rodeo, and there's always plenty for the crowd to watch. This is just a portion of the throng that turned out last year—and many were turned away because the seats were all filled. The word this year is "come early—it's just like the World Series opener at Candlestick."



Exercise, fresh air, companionship, and the affection of parents are essential to the healthy growth of children. Along with this goes the preparation for their future well being in the community.
